I. Qualitative Information and Financial Review

1. Consolidated Business Results

(1) Group Overview (April 1, 2024 to September 30, 2024)

Net Sales: 629.0 billion yen (+2.9%), Operating Profit: 48.7 billion yen (+18.4%), Ordinary Profit: 48.1 billion yen (-6.6%), Profit Attributable to Owners of Parent: 42.9 billion yen (-3.4%)

In the first half of fiscal 2024, despite sluggish domestic demand for new housing, demand was strong in electronics markets and for construction, consumer goods, and other products in the U.S., resulting in higher sales of high valueadded products. There were also positive effects from foreign exchange rates, and net sales reached a record high in the first half. Operating profit reached a new record high for the first half of the fiscal year as a result of efforts to increase sales of high value-added products, secure profit, and control fixed costs.

Ordinary profit and semi-annual profit attributable to owners of the parent decreased, mainly due to effects from foreign exchange losses.

(2) Overview by Business Segment (April 1, 2024 to September 30, 2024)

[Housing Company]

Net Sales: 253.6 billion yen (-4.2%), Operating Profit: 14.5 billion yen (+12.3%)

In the first half of fiscal 2024, sales increased in the Housing Renovation business and the Real Estate business, but the decrease in the number of houses ordered in the Housing business in the previous fiscal year resulted in a decline in net sales overall. Meanwhile, effects from increases in unit prices and measures to strengthen profitability in the Housing business emerged, and profits increased.

Orders received in the Housing business were flat from the same period of the previous fiscal year overall, despite year-on-year increases in orders received in urban areas such as Tokyo, Chubu, Kinki, and other regions. In the Housing Renovation business, orders increased year-on-year as a result of an increase in sales personnel and increased sales of large-scale renovations.

In terms of measures, in the Housing business, we developed products tailored to the needs of each area and implemented sales strategies. We also implemented measures to increase profitability, shifted personnel to growth areas in the Housing Renovation business and other businesses, and took measures to reinforce sales structures.

[Urban Infrastructure and Environmental Products Company]

Net Sales: 113.4 billion yen (+3.4%), Operating Profit: 8.4 billion yen (+5.1%)

In the first half of fiscal 2024, despite a slump in the domestic housing market, non-housing markets experienced moderate recovery, and net sales increased. Although there were effects from higher total costs, we made efforts to improve sales prices and control fixed costs, and as a result, operating profit reached a new record high for the first half of the fiscal year.

In the Pipe Systems field, although market conditions for chlorinated polyvinyl chloride (CPVC) in India were sluggish, net sales increased year-on-year due to effects from a moderate recovery in domestic non-housing markets and increased sales, primarily of prioritized products.

In the Buildings and Infrastructures Composite Materials field, the domestic housing market was sluggish, but in the non-housing field, sales of large high-capacity drainage systems increased and price revisions permeated markets. Also, efforts to increase orders for synthetic lumber (FFU) in Europe progress, and as a result, sales in the field as a whole increased year-on-year.

In the Infrastructure Renovation field, sales increased year-on-year as a result of covering the decline in domestic demand for pipeline renewal by overseas demand, a recovery in demand for water storage tanks (panel tanks), and other factors.

[High Performance Plastics Company]

Net Sales: 221.1 billion yen (+10.4%), Operating Profit: 29.8 billion yen (+30.0%)

In the first half of fiscal 2024, semiconductor-related demand as well as demand for building materials and consumer goods turned toward recovery, sales of high-performance products increased, and there were positive foreign exchange effects, and as a result, net sales increased and operating profit was up significantly, reaching a new record high for the first half of the fiscal year.

In the Electronics field, the smartphone market was firm, semiconductor-related demand recovered, and efforts to capture new demand made progress, resulting in a year-on-year increase in net sales.

In the Mobility field, despite sluggish demand for some aircraft-related products, sales of high-performance interlayer films (used mainly for head-up displays, solar control, and color design) increased at a steady pace, and net sales increased year-on-year.

In the Industrial field, demand for building materials and consumer goods recovered in North America and Japan, and net sales increased year-on-year.

[Medical Business]

Net Sales: 47.8 billion yen (+9.6%), Operating Profit: 5.9 billion yen (+16.2%)

In the first half of fiscal 2024, net sales increased and operating profit reached a new record high for the first half of the fiscal year as a result of the steady capture of diagnostics demand in Japan and overseas.

In the Diagnostics business, there was an increase in sales of COVID-19 diagnostic kits in the U.S., which had been delayed, and shipping delays caused by damage from cyberattacks on leading distributors were eliminated, resulting in firm sales of influenza diagnostic kits, and net sales increased year-on-year.

In the Pharmaceutical Sciences business, there were effects from production adjustments for leading products in pharmaceutical ingredient contract manufacturing, but orders for drug development solutions increase and sales of reagents were up as expanded newborn screening (NBS) tests became publicly funded in Japan, and as a result, net sales increased year-on-year.

3. Revision to the Consolidated Results Forecast and Other Forward-Looking Information

With regard to the consolidated forecasts for fiscal 2024 as a whole, despite sluggish demand for new housing, measures to strengthen profitability in the Housing business are progressing steadily and sales of high value-added products and efforts to secure profit are also proceeding well, and as a result, operating profit exceeded initial forecasts in all segments and is also expected to exceed the initial forecasts for the year as a whole. However, there is a risk that the yen will appreciate in value. Taking these factors into consideration, we revised the forecast announced on April 26, 2024 as indicated in the table below.

(4) Notes to Semi-annual Consolidated Financial Statements

(The premise of a going concern) Not applicable.

(Significant Change in Shareholder Equity) Not applicable.

(Accounting treatment specific to the preparation of semi-annual consolidated financial statements)

(Calculation of tax expense)

Tax expenses are calculated by reasonably estimating the effective tax rate after applying tax effect accounting to profit before income taxes for the fiscal year, including the current semi-annual consolidated accounting period, and multiplying profit before income taxes (semi-annual) by the estimated effective tax rate. However, if the calculation of tax expenses using such estimated effective tax rate would significantly lack rationality, tax expenses are calculated using the statutory tax rate. Income taxes - deferred are included in income taxes.
