Proposals and Notes

Proposal 1: Approval of a share transfer plan with Nippon Piston Ring Co., Ltd.

The Company and Nippon Piston Ring Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as “NPR”; the Company and NPR referred to collectively as “both companies”), based on a Memorandum of Understanding concerning a business merger signed by both companies on July 27, 2022 (hereinafter the “Memorandum of Understanding”), and subject to approval at shareholders’ meetings of both companies and the approval of relevant authorities, etc., resolved in meetings of their respective Board of Directors held on May 23, 2023 to enact a joint share transfer (hereinafter the “Share Transfer”) to establish (hereinafter the “Consolidation”) NPR-RIKEN CORPORATION (hereinafter the “Joint Holding Company”), which will become a wholly owning parent company of both companies effective October 2, 2023 (hereinafter the “Effective Date”). Moreover, on May 23, 2023, both companies signed a consolidation agreement (hereinafter the “Consolidation Agreement”) grounded in a spirit of equality and jointly prepared a share transfer plan (hereinafter the “Share Transfer Plan”) to effect the share transfer.

Therefore, we request your approval of the Share Transfer Plan.

The reason for carrying out the share transfer, an overview of the contents of the Share Transfer Plan, and other matters related to this proposal are shown below.

1. Reason for the share transfer

(1) Background of the share transfer

The Company was founded in 1927 with the aim of bringing research results from the Institute of Physical and Chemical Research to the market, and since then, we have continued refining our surface treatment technologies, processing technologies, and material technologies for our main products including piston rings. In this way, we have contributed to the development of the global automobile industry for over 90 years.

NPR was established in 1934, and has been supplying high-performance, high-quality internal combustion engine parts including piston rings, valve seats, and camshafts based on their own technology, and in this way, have contributed to the progress of motorization globally.

The automobile industry is undergoing a once-in-a-century transformation, and market awareness of engine parts has become more severe. At the same time, while people are focusing more on environmental issues, internal combustion engines will continue to be the main powertrains for the foreseeable future, so it is the mission of both companies to develop engine parts that are environmentally friendly. We believe that it is necessary to increase investment in new business areas in addition to internal combustion engine peripheral parts based on global trends such as SDGs, ESG, and decarbonization.

As a first step toward future development, both companies will utilize their brands that have been established over many decades through management integration. We recognize that by properly allocating management resources and developing new core business under integrated governance, it will be possible to accelerate efforts to achieve decarbonization as we generate powerful synergies, and evolve into a completely new business entity, which will result in sustainable growth and improve the corporate value for both companies.

Both companies have already discussed and examined the establishment of a Joint Holding Company by means of a joint share transfer based on the Memorandum of Understanding and the execution of a Consolidation. On 23rd of May, adhering to that spirit of equality, the two companies have reached a final agreement and concluded a Consolidation Agreement under the conviction that the Consolidation is the optimal choice for the shareholders, employees, and all stakeholders of both companies.

(2) Purpose of the share transfer and expected synergistic effect

Under this share transfer, both companies will endeavor to integrate and utilize the management resources of both companies by creating synergies in order to strengthen the profitability of existing businesses, especially automobile engine parts, and will work with a sense of urgency on new core businesses and creation of new products for non-automotive engine parts related to ships, hydrogen, new energy, thermal engineering, EMC (Electromagnetic Compatibility), METAMOLDS (metal powder injection molding), medical equipment, and axial gap type motors (thin, disk-shape high-torque motors). Our aim is to achieve global development of unique functional parts and key components that can be applied to the proprietary technologies of both companies with the goal of further improving corporate value by evolving into a completely new type of leading company.

- (i) Strengthening existing businesses by shifting management resources and quickly developing new core products

Companies in the automobile industry have been forced to improve their technical capabilities and reform their organizations in recent years in response to newly developed fields such as CASE and MaaS. Both companies must collaborate with external institutions and research facilities to develop technological capabilities that will result in differentiation, and ensure resources for creating innovation. The purpose of this share transfer is to achieve the following: [Strengthen ability to generate cash flow in existing businesses]

Both companies will work to improve business efficiency and strengthen development capabilities by adjusting the capital investment level, optimizing production over a wide area, and by centralizing and effectively utilizing development themes. Based on such efforts, earning power will be improved and our ability to generate cash flow will strengthen while also meeting the expectations of customers for high-quality, low-cost products.

[New core businesses and creation of new products]

Improving the efficiency of existing businesses will make it possible to integrate resources that had been allocated to the development of internal combustion engines for making a bold shift to new core businesses and new product fields. We will accelerate investment in effective new product development, promote sharing between technologies and bases, and quickly develop new products that have high added value and cost competitiveness.

- (ii) Strengthening ability to respond in an increasingly decarbonized society

The world is moving toward a decarbonized society. Therefore, both companies must respond to global environmental issues. By combining and developing the technologies and resources related to products and production cultivated by both companies, it will be possible to develop technologies in the environmental field and accelerate product decarbonization. We will actively work to reduce carbon dioxide emissions throughout the supply chain and actively contribute toward realizing a sustainable society.

- (iii) Reducing cost through shared resource usage including infrastructure

By improving productivity throughout the supply chain, from purchasing and production to sales, and by standardizing the in-house production processes of both companies, we will reduce outflow costs, reduce procurement costs through joint purchasing, and improve efficiency by eliminating duplicate systems and indirect operations, resulting in better operational efficiency and cost reduction while ensuring competitive advantage.

- (iv) Reducing manufacturing costs through better production efficiency based on complementary products, and timely and appropriate responses to supply responsibilities

By taking advantage of the technologies and infrastructure owned by both companies, it will be possible to promote shared use of factories and optimize production bases beyond the conventional framework with the goal of realizing significant productivity improvements, expanding the system for supplying high-quality products, and reducing fixed costs. We also intend to fulfill supply responsibilities to customers in a timely and appropriate manner by establishing a sustainable production system.

- (v) Enhancing human skills by exchanging people and technologies

Actively exchanging the knowledge and technologies possessed by executives and employees in both companies will produce opportunities in various areas and positions for creating new ideas that leverage the strengths of both companies. We will therefore endeavor to establish an environment in each workplace that allows for greater employee engagement.

3 Matters concerning the reasonableness of provisions related to matters provided under Article 773, paragraph (1), items (v) and (vi) of the Companies Act

- (1) Matters concerning the shares of the joint holding company to be delivered by the joint holding company to shareholders of both companies upon the share transfer, and the allotment of shares of the joint holding company

Both companies have determined the allotment ratio for common shares of the joint holding company to be allotted and delivered to the shareholders of each company upon the establishment of the joint holding company by the share transfer (hereinafter referred to as the “Share Transfer Ratio”) as follows.

- (a) Details of the allotment pertaining to the share transfer (Share Transfer Ratio)

Company name	The Company	NPR
Share Transfer Ratio	2	1.02

- (Note 1) Details of the allotment pertaining to the share transfer

For each share of the common stock of the Company, 2 shares of the common stock of the joint holding company will be allotted and delivered, and for each share of the common stock of NPR, 1.02 shares of the common stock of the joint holding company will be allotted and delivered. However, in the event of material change in the conditions underlying the calculation of the above share transfer ratio, the ratio may be changed through consultation between the two companies

The number of shares that constitute one unit of shares of the Joint Holding Company is scheduled to be 100 shares.

In the event that fractions of less than one (1) share of common stock of the joint holding company arise that must be delivered to shareholders of both companies in the joint share transfer, a monetary amount equivalent to the fractional portion less than one (1) share will be paid to those shareholders, in accordance with the provisions of Article 234 of the Companies Act and other related laws and regulations.

- (Note 2) Number of new shares to be granted by the Joint Holding Company through the Share Transfer (scheduled): Common stock: 28,031,005 shares

The above number is based on the total number of outstanding shares (10,688,866 shares) of Riken as of March 31, 2023 and on the total number of outstanding shares (8,374,157 shares) of NPR as of March 31, 2023. However, as Riken and NPR intend, by resolutions of meetings of their respective Boards of Directors convened by the day before the Effective Date of the Share Transfer, to cancel all treasury stock held by each company (including treasury shares acquired by the companies on the occasion of the Share Transfer through share purchase requests made pursuant to the provisions of Article 806, paragraph 1 of the Companies Act) immediately prior to the Effective Date (hereinafter the “Base Time”), 646,482 shares of common stock that are treasury shares held by Riken as of March 31, 2023 and 583,728 shares of common stock that are treasury shares held by NPR as of March 31, 2023 are excluded from the scope of the granting of new shares in the above calculation.

The number of treasury shares that will be retired by the Base Time is currently undetermined, and the number of new shares to be granted by the Joint Holding Company is subject to change in the future.

- (Note 3) Handling of shares of less than one unit

Shares of the Joint Holding Company that will be allotted to shareholders of Riken and NPR as a result of the Share Transfer are scheduled to be listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange via application. If said application is approved, trading of shares of the Joint Holding Company on the Tokyo Stock Exchange will be possible. Accordingly, the companies intend for shares of the Joint Holding Company to offer continued liquidity to shareholders of Riken or NPR who hold 50 or more shares of stock of Riken or 99 or more shares of stock of NPR and who receive allotment of 100 or more shares, i.e., one unit of shares, of the Joint Holding Company through the Share Transfer.

While shareholders of Riken and NPR who receive an allotment of less than 100 shares of stock of the Joint Holding Company will not be able to sell said allotted shares on the Tokyo Stock Exchange or on other financial instruments exchanges, it will be possible to request the purchase of such odd-lot shares to the Joint Holding Company. Pursuant to provisions scheduled to be stipulated in the Articles of Incorporation of the Joint Holding Company, the ability to purchase additional shares from the Joint Holding Company that, in combination with the number of odd-lot shares held, constitute one unit of shares is also planned.

(b) Grounds, etc. for details of allotments related to the Share Transfer

(i) Grounds and reasons for the details of the allotment

In order to ensure the fairness and validity of the share transfer ratio calculated as described in “3 (1) (a) Details of the allotment pertaining to the share transfer (Share Transfer Ratio)” above (hereinafter the “Share Transfer Ratio”), Riken has selected IR Japan, Inc. (hereinafter “IR Japan”) and NPR has selected Nomura Securities Co., Ltd. (hereinafter “Nomura Securities”) to serve as financial advisors and third-party valuation bodies independent from either company. Based on advice and on calculations of share transfer ratio submitted by the third-party valuation body IR Japan noted in “i Acquisition of calculation reports from independent third-party valuation bodies” in “3 (1) (b) (d) Measures to ensure fairness” below, based on legal advice from City-Yuwa Partners noted in “ii Advice from an independent law firm” in “3 (1) (b) (d) Measures to ensure fairness” below, and based on the findings of due diligence concerning NPR conducted by Riken and its advisors, and as a result of careful discussion and consideration taking into account the financial conditions, performance trends, stock price movements, etc. of both companies, Riken has arrived at the conclusion that the Share Transfer Ratio noted in “3 (1) (a) Details of the allotment pertaining to the share transfer (Share Transfer Ratio)” above is valid and is in the interest of Riken shareholders.

Based on advice and on calculations of share transfer ratio submitted by the third-party valuation body Nomura Securities noted in “i Acquisition of calculation reports from independent third-party valuation bodies” in “3 (1) (b) (d) Measures to ensure fairness” below, based on legal advice from Marunouchi Sogo Law Office noted in “ii Advice from an independent law firm” in “3 (1) (b) (d) Measures to ensure fairness” below, and based on the findings of due diligence concerning Riken conducted by NPR and its advisors, and as a result of careful discussion and consideration taking into account the financial conditions, performance trends, stock price movements, etc. of both companies, NPR has arrived at the conclusion that the Share Transfer Ratio noted in “3 (1) (a) Details of the allotment pertaining to the share transfer (Share Transfer Ratio)” above is valid and is in the interest of NPR shareholders.

In this way, with reference to calculations and analyses by these third-party valuation bodies and the advice of legal advisors, and based on the findings of due diligence conducted by each of the companies on the other party, and furthermore as a result of repeated negotiations and discussions between the two companies comprehensively taking into account factors including financial status, share price movements, and the future outlook for both companies, the conclusion was ultimately reached that the Share Transfer Ratio described in “3 (1) (a) Details of the allotment pertaining to the share transfer (Share Transfer Ratio)” above is valid and is in the interests of the shareholders of both companies. Having resolved to conclude the Consolidation Agreement at meetings of the Boards of Directors of both companies convened on 23rd of May, the companies entered into the Consolidation Agreement and jointly created the Share Transfer Plan.

(ii) Matters related to calculations

(a) Names of the calculation institutions and their relationships with the counterpart company
Neither IR Japan, the financial advisor (third-party calculation institution) of the Company, nor Nomura Securities, the financial advisor (third-party calculation institution) of NPR, are related parties of the Company or NPR. Neither has any material special interests that require disclosure in regard to the joint share transfer.

(b) Matters related to calculations

IR Japan calculated the Share Transfer Ratio in accordance with the market share price averaging method, given that shares of both Riken and NPR are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange Prime Market and a market share price exists for each. IR Japan also performed calculations using the comparable multiple valuation method due to the facts that multiple listed companies exist that are comparable to Riken and NPR and that analogizing stock prices through comparable company valuation is possible, and further performed calculations using the discounted cash flow method (hereinafter “DCF method”) in order to reflect the state of future business activities in the evaluation.

The results of calculations based on each method are as stated below. The calculation ranges of the Share Transfer Ratio below are the calculation ranges for the number of common shares of the joint holding company to be allotted per common share of NPR, in the event that two (2) common share of the joint holding company is allotted per common share of the Company.

Methods used	Calculation range of the Share Transfer Ratio
Market share price averaging method	0.97~1.09
Comparable multiple valuation method	0.95~1.26
DCF method	0.65~1.42

With regard to the market share price averaging method, setting July 26, 2022, the business day prior to July 27, 2022 (the date on which conclusion of the Memorandum of Understanding was announced), as calculation reference date (i), calculation was performed of the closing stock price on calculation reference date (i), the average closing stock price for the one-month period from June 27, 2022 to calculation reference date (i), the average closing stock price for the three-month period from April 27, 2022 to calculation reference date (i), as well as the average closing stock price for the six-month period from January 27, 2022 to calculation reference date (i); and, setting May 22, 2023 as calculation reference date (ii), calculation was performed of the closing price on calculation reference date (ii), the average closing stock price for the one-month period from April 24, 2023 to calculation reference date (ii), the average closing stock price for the three-month period from February 24, 2023 to calculation reference date (ii), as well as the average closing stock price for the six-month period from November 24, 2022 to calculation reference date (ii).

In calculating the above share transfer ratio, IR Japan used information provided by both companies, publicly available information, etc., doing so under the assumption that all of the materials, information, etc. are accurate and complete and without conducting independent verification of the accuracy or completeness of these. With regard to the assets and liabilities of the two companies and their affiliates (including financial derivatives, off-the-book assets and liabilities, and other contingent liabilities), independent valuation, appraisal, or assessment was not performed, including analysis and valuation of individual assets and liabilities, and appraisal and assessment by a third party was not requested. IR Japan's calculation of the share transfer ratio incorporates information and economic conditions up to the date of May 22, 2023. Financial projections and other forward-looking information concerning Riken was rationally prepared on the basis of best-effort and good-faith forecasts and judgments currently available to the management of Riken. Financial projections and other forward-looking information concerning NPR was rationally examined and confirmed on the basis of best-effort and good-faith forecasts and judgments currently available to the management of NPR. IR Japan's calculation of the Share Transfer Ratio assumes that the financial status of Riken and of NPR will change in line with these forecasts.

The business plans of Riken and NPR, used by IR Japan as premises for calculation under the DCF method, do not incorporate synergies resulting from the Consolidation. The business plans of Riken and NPR for the period from the fiscal year ending March 31, 2024 to the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026, used by IR Japan as premises for calculation under the DCF method, include fiscal years in which significant fluctuations in profit are anticipated. Specifically, Riken is expected to achieve a significant increase in profit for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2025, mainly attributable to passing through of increases in procurement costs, such as raw material costs, energy prices, and outsourcing costs, to sales prices, and corporate efforts such as rationalization activities. Moreover, NPR is expected to achieve a significant increase in profit for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2024, with a contribution to earnings from the passing through of procurement costs to sales prices and corporate efforts.

Nomura Securities calculated the Share Transfer Ratio in accordance with the market share price averaging method, given that shares of both NPR and Riken are listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange Prime Market and a market share price exists for each. Nomura Securities also conducted calculations using the comparable multiple valuation method due to the facts that multiple listed companies exist that are comparable to NPR and Riken and that analogizing stock prices through comparable company valuation is possible, and further performed calculations using the DCF method in order to reflect the state of future business activities in the evaluation.

The results of calculations based on each method are as stated below. The calculation ranges of the Share Transfer Ratio below are the calculation ranges for the number of common shares of the joint holding company to be allotted per common share of NPR, in the event that two (2) common share of the joint holding company is allotted per common share of the Company.

Methods used	Calculation range of the Share Transfer Ratio
Market share price averaging method	0.97~1.09
Comparable multiple valuation method	0.94~1.44
DCF method	0.92~1.30

With regard to the market share price averaging method, setting July 26, 2022, the business day prior to July 27, 2022 (the date on which conclusion of the Memorandum of Understanding was announced), as calculation reference date (i), calculation was performed of the closing stock price on calculation reference date (i), the average closing stock price for the five-day period from July 20, 2022 to calculation reference date (i), the average closing stock price for the one-month period from June 27, 2022 to calculation reference date (i), the average closing stock price for the three-month period from April 27, 2022 to calculation reference date (i), as well as the average closing stock price for the six-month period from January 27, 2022 to calculation reference date (i); and, setting May 22, 2023 as calculation reference date (ii), calculation was performed of the closing price on calculation reference date (ii), the average closing stock price for the five-day period from May 16, 2023 to calculation reference date (ii), the average closing stock price for the one-month period from April 24, 2023 to calculation reference date (ii), the average closing stock price for the three-month period from February 24, 2023 to calculation reference date (ii), as well as the average closing stock price for the six-month period from November 24, 2022 to calculation reference date (ii).

In calculating the above share transfer ratio, Nomura Securities used information provided by both companies, publicly available information, etc., doing so under the assumption that all of the materials, information, etc. are accurate and complete and without conducting independent verification of the accuracy or completeness of these. With regard to the assets and liabilities of the two companies and their affiliates (including financial derivatives, off-the-book assets and liabilities, and other contingent liabilities), independent valuation, appraisal, or assessment was not performed, including analysis and valuation of individual assets and liabilities, and appraisal and assessment by a third party was not requested. Nomura Securities' calculation of the share transfer ratio incorporates information and economic conditions up to the date of May 22, 2023. Financial projections and other forward-looking information concerning NPR was rationally prepared on the basis of best-effort and good-faith forecasts and judgments currently available to the management of NPR. Financial projections and other forward-looking information concerning Riken were rationally examined and confirmed on the basis of best-effort and good-faith forecasts and judgments currently available to the management of Riken. Nomura Securities' calculation of the Share Transfer Ratio assumes that the financial status of NPR and of Riken will change in line with these forecasts.

The business plans of NPR and Riken, used by Nomura Securities as premises for calculation under the DCF method, do not incorporate synergies resulting from the Consolidation. The business plan of NPR from the fiscal year ending March 31, 2024 to the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026, used by Nomura Securities as premises for calculation under the DCF method, includes a business year in which a significant increase in profit is anticipated. Specifically, in the fiscal year ending March 2024, a significant year-on-year increase in profit is expected as the company's efforts to pass through procurement costs to sales prices contribute to earnings. Furthermore, the business plan of Riken from the fiscal year ending March 31, 2024 to the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026, used by Nomura Securities as premises for calculation under the DCF method, includes a business year in which a significant increase in profit is anticipated. Specifically, in the fiscal year ending March 31, 2025, Riken is projected to achieve a significant increase in profit from the previous fiscal year, mainly attributable to the passing through of increases in procurement costs, such as raw materials costs, energy prices, and outsourcing costs, to sales prices and corporate efforts such as rationalization activities.

(c) Matters concerning application for listing of the Joint Holding Company

Both companies plan to apply for a new listing (technical listing) on the Tokyo Stock Exchange Prime Market for shares of the established Joint Holding Company. The date of listing is scheduled for October 2, 2023, the registration date for establishment of the Joint Holding Company.

Through the Share Transfer, both companies will become wholly owned subsidiaries of the Joint Holding Company, and, in accordance with the listing of the Joint Holding Company, are scheduled to be delisted effective September 28, 2023. If listing of the Joint Holding Company is approved, the shareholders of both companies will be able to trade shares of the Joint Holding Company granted through the Share Transfer on the Tokyo Stock Exchange.

Common stock of NPR is currently listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange Prime Market. As the stock does not meet the criterion for market capitalization of tradable stock included among the criteria for maintaining listing in said market, on November 29, 2021 the company submitted a Plan for Meeting the Criteria for Maintenance of Listing in the New Market Segment (hereinafter the “Plan”) and has been subjected to the application of interim measures. It is assumed at present that the market capitalization of tradable stock of the Joint Holding Company scheduled to be listed will satisfy the above criteria. While the Plan is on hold pending the condition that the above technical listing application is approved by the Tokyo Stock Exchange, the company will continue striving to enhance its corporate value in accordance with the aims of the plan.

(d) Measures to ensure fairness

To ensure the fairness of the Share Transfer Ratio and of the Share Transfer, both companies have implemented the following measures.

i Acquisition of calculation reports from independent third-party valuation bodies

On behalf of the shareholders of the Company, the Company has obtained a calculation report on the share transfer ratio, dated May 23, 2023, from IR Japan, a third-party valuation body independent from both companies. See “(ii) Matters related to calculations” in “3 (1) (b) Grounds, etc. for details of allotments related to the Share Transfer” for an overview of the calculation report.

Conversely, on behalf of the shareholders of NPR, NPR has obtained a calculation report on the share transfer ratio, dated May 23, 2023, from Nomura Securities, a third-party valuation body independent from NPR and Riken. See “(ii) Matters related to calculations” in “3 (1) (b) Grounds, etc. for details of allotments related to the Share Transfer” for an overview of the calculation report.

ii. Advice from an independent law firm

The Company has received advice from a legal perspective from City-Yuwa Partners as its legal advisor for the Share Transfer, concerning procedures for the Share Transfer and methods and processes for decision-making by the Board of Directors. Conversely, NPR has received advice from a legal perspective from Marunouchi Sogo Law Office as its legal advisor for the Share Transfer, concerning procedures for the Share Transfer and methods and processes for decision-making by the Board of Directors.

Both City-Yuwa Partners and Marunouchi Sogo Law Office are independent from both companies and have no material interests of note with both companies.

(e) Measures to avoid conflicts of interest

As no particular conflicts of interest will arise between both companies in connection with the Share Transfer, no special measures have been taken.

(2) Matters regarding the amounts of capital and capital reserve of the Joint Holding Company

The Company and NPR have determined the amounts of capital and capital reserve of the Joint Holding Company upon the establishment of the Joint Holding Company by the Share Transfer as follows.

(1) Amount of capital	5,000,000,000 yen
(2) Amount of capital reserve	1,250,000,000 yen
(3) Amount of legal reserve	0 yen

These amounts of capital and reserves have been determined within the range stipulated in Article 52 of the Regulations on Corporate Accounting after comprehensively considering and examining the size and other circumstances of the Joint Holding Company and upon consultation between the Company and NPR.

4 Matters concerning the reasonableness of provisions related to matters provided under Article 773, paragraph (1), items (ix) and (x) of the Companies Act

Upon the Share Transfer, the Joint Holding Company will deliver stock acquisition rights listed in Column 2 of the table below that is equal to the total number of stock acquisition rights subject to allotment (hereinafter referred to as the “stock acquisition rights issued by the joint holding company”) in lieu of stock acquisition rights subject to allotment to the holders of each stock acquisition right listed in Column 1 of the table below that has been issued by the Company and NPR (hereinafter referred to as the “stock acquisition rights subject to allotment”) as of the Base Time. The Joint Holding Company will allot one (1) stock acquisition right issued by the joint holding company for one (1) stock acquisition right subject to allotment held by holders of stock acquisition rights subject to allotment as of the Base Time. The Company determined that, on the premise of the Share Transfer Ratio of the Share Transfer, handling of these matters is appropriate as the Joint Holding Company will deliver stock acquisition rights issued by the joint holding company that are substantially the same in nature and number as the stock acquisition rights subject to allotment.

In recent year, the automobile industry has faced what is referred to as a once a hundred year major revolution and the market awareness surrounding engine components, a mainstay business of the Company, has become severe. As put forward in our mid-term strategic plan “PLAN2022,” the Company is planning to expand Non-ICE (Internal-combustion engine) business as a next generation new business, and has considered the aggressive use of M&A to expand the portfolio in business domains with which the Company has a high affinity.

Nippon-PF manufactures and sells a broad range of pipe fittings and has solid relationships through transactions with many customers over a long period of time due to its high quality product capabilities, and is positioned a leading player within the industry.

Nippon-PF has a firm presence in the gas pipe fittings domain and we are aware that its mainstay products are adequately separated from those of the Company. This acquisition of shares is expected to create wide-ranging synergies to enable both companies to fulfill their responsibilities to manufacture and supply pipe fittings that play an important role in supporting critical infrastructure in a timely and appropriate manner. Furthermore, in addition to major improvements in productivity and being able to establish sustainable systems that can supply high quality products, we decided to acquire the shares in the belief that this will enable us to accelerate initiatives to address climate change issues towards the Group’s carbon neutral target.

The Company aims to achieve sustained growth and improved corporate value through medium to long-term management stability by continuing to provide customers with high quality products by welcoming Nippon-PF to the Group and utilizing the strengths of both companies.

(Notes)

1. There is no special interest between each of the candidates and the Company.
2. Osamu Honda and Tatsuya Sakuma are candidates for Outside Director. In addition, both satisfy the requirements under “Standards for Judgment of Independence of Outside Directors” (page 82) provided by the Company.
3. Osamu Honda was a business executor at Mizuho Bank, Ltd. until March 2002 and Mizuho Securities Co., Ltd. until June 2011. The Company and the two (2) companies conduct transactions; however, the transaction amount is less than 1% of the respective consolidated sales of the Company and the two (2) companies, and the amount of borrowings from Mizuho Bank, Ltd. does not exceed 2% of the consolidated assets of the Company. Moreover, although Mizuho Bank, Ltd. is a shareholder in the Company, its shares are less than 10% of the total.
The Company determines that both of the above matters satisfy the requirements for “Standards for Judgment of Independence of Outside Directors” (page 82), and will have no impact on independence as an Outside Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member.
4. The Company has designated Osamu Honda as an independent officer according to the rules of the Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc., and has registered him with the said exchange. If he is elected, he will continue to be registered as an independent director. If Tatsuya Sakuma is elected, he will be newly registered as an independent officer.
5. In accordance with Article 427 (1) of the Companies Act, the Company has entered into an agreement with Osamu Honda regarding liability for damages under Article 423 (1) of the Companies Act to the Company, limiting his liability to the extent stipulated in legislation. The Company intends to continue this agreement if his reelection is approved. If the election of Kouei Watanabe and Tatsuya Sakuma is approved, the Company plans to enter into the same limited liability agreement with them.
6. The Company has concluded a liability insurance contract for officers, etc. (D&O Insurance Contract) under Article 430-3 (1) of the Companies Act with an insurance company, with all the Directors including Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members as the insured. Under the insurance contract, damages or legal costs, etc. that may be incurred by the insured due to claims for damages being filed arising due to acts (including omissions) committed by the insured based on the status of company officer, etc. will be covered. However, there are certain exclusion reasons, such as damages arising from an act upon recognition of the illegality of the act not being covered. Insurance premiums for the insurance contract are covered by the Company, based on approval by the Board of Directors and the consent of the Outside Directors.
If election of candidates for Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member is approved, they will be included in the insured under the insurance contract.
The Company plans to renew the insurance contract with the same terms at the next renewal in February 2024.

Proposal 5: Election of one (1) substitute Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member

The Company requests election of one (1) substitute Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member in preparation for the case where the number of Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members falls short of the number stipulated by laws and regulations.

The substitute Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member will assume office to fill a vacancy in the Audit and Supervisory Committee that would otherwise cause the board to fall short of its legally mandated quorum. The term of office of the substitute Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member will be for the remainder of the term of office of the previous member whom they substitute.

Selection of candidates has undergone deliberations by our voluntary Nomination and Compensation Committee, of which a majority of members are independent Outside Directors.

Moreover, the Audit and Supervisory Committee has given its consent to this proposal.

The candidate for substitute Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member is as follows:

Name (Date of birth)	Career summary, position and responsibilities, and significant concurrent positions outside the Company	Number of the Company's shares owned

(present position)	0
	Reasons for nomination as candidate for substitute Outside Director who is Audit and Supervisory Committee Member and outline of expected role Koji Tanabe worked as a professor at the Tokyo Institute of Technology after serving at the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry for many years. We have nominated him for the post of substitute Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member because we expect that the Company's audits will benefit from his in-depth expertise and extensive experience in innovation management, as well as his management experience at other companies and the Company.

(Notes)

1. There is no special interest between the candidate and the Company.
2. Koji Tanabe is a candidate for substitute Outside Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member. He was an Outside Director of the Company for four (4) years from June 2019.
3. If Koji Tanabe assumes the office of Outside Director who is an Audit and Supervisory Committee Member, the Company will enter into an agreement with him limiting his liability for damages to the extent stipulated in legislation under Article 427 (1) of the Companies Act.
4. The Company has concluded a liability insurance contract for officers, etc. (D&O Insurance Contract) under Article 430-3 (1) of the Companies Act with an insurance company, with all the Directors including Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members as the insured. Under the insurance contract, damages or legal costs, etc. that may be incurred by the insured due to claims for damages being filed arising due to acts (including omissions) committed by the insured based on the status of company officer, etc. will be covered. However, there are certain exclusion reasons, such as damages arising from an act upon recognition of the illegality of the act not being covered. Insurance premiums for the insurance contract are covered by the Company, based on approval by the Board of Directors and the consent of the Outside Directors.

Business Report

(From April 1, 2022 to March 31, 2023)

1. Matters Regarding the Current Status of the Corporate Group

1-1 Business Progress and Results

During the current consolidated fiscal year (April to March in Japan and India, January to December in the rest of the world), global economies showed signs of recovery thanks to the easing of restrictions on activities aimed at preventing the spread of COVID-19. However, the economies remained weak due to high inflation caused by geopolitical risks and policy rate hikes mainly in the U.S. and Europe.

In Japan, as well, although there have been signs of a recovery in economic activities such as consumer spending, the economy has not seen a strong recovery due to soaring raw material and energy prices and sharp fluctuations in foreign exchange rates.

With regard to the automobile industry, which has a close relationship with the Group, although automobile production has increased compared to the previous year, it still has not fully recovered due to such factors as the shortage of semiconductor parts in many countries.

Amid these conditions, the Group's net sales for the current consolidated fiscal year increased to 86,382 million yen (up 10.2% year-on-year) due to a recovery in automobile production and the foreign exchange impact of a weaker yen. Operating profit was 4,676 million yen (down 8.7% year-on-year) due to the impact of soaring raw material and energy prices, despite the positive impact of a weaker yen. Ordinary profit was 7,374 million yen (up 12.9% year-on-year) due to increased profits from overseas equity-method affiliates, insurance income, etc. Profit attributable to owners of parent was only 4,318 million yen (down 0.3% year-on-year), mainly due to an increase in impairment losses.

1-2 Status of Capital Investments, etc.

The total amount of capital investment made by the Group during the current consolidated fiscal year was 2,878 million yen, with the main investments being as follows.

- (1) Major facilities completed during the current consolidated fiscal year
 - Kashiwazaki Plant
Additional machine processing and surface treatment facilities (Automotive & Machinery Parts Business)
 - Kumagaya Plant
Additional machine processing and surface treatment facilities (Automotive & Machinery Parts Business)
- (2) New and enhanced major facilities during the current consolidated fiscal year
 - Kashiwazaki Plant
Additional machine processing and surface treatment facilities (Automotive & Machinery Parts Business)
Hydrogen engine business-related R&D facilities (Automotive & Machinery Parts Business)
 - Kumagaya Plant
Additional machine processing and surface treatment facilities (Automotive & Machinery Parts Business)
R&D facilities for new business creation (Other)
 - Riken Heat Techno Co., Ltd.
Thermal engineering-related manufacturing facilities (Other)
 - RIKEN AUTOMOBILE PARTS (WUHAN) CO., LTD.
Additional machine processing facilities (Automotive & Machinery Parts Business)

1-3 Status of Financing

There were no special items to be noted during the current consolidated fiscal year.

1-4 Issues that Need to be Addressed

The global economy in FY2023 is forecasted to grow at a low rate, impacted by such factors as rising prices and turmoil in the financial sector. While the economy is gradually emerging from the stagnation of economic growth caused by COVID-19 and supply chain disruptions, geopolitical risks such as Russia's invasion of Ukraine and the U.S.-China trade conflict remain high, and uncertainty remains in the global economic forecast.

The automotive industry, which has a close relationship with the Group, is in the midst of a “once-in-a-century period of great transformation” with an increase in the number of environmentally friendly vehicles such as electric vehicles and the development of technologies such as automated driving, etc. The Company projects that the global market will expand with accelerated “social transformation” and qualitative changes impacted by to the spread of COVID-19 infection.

The global trend toward carbon neutrality is on the rise, which is leading to an increase in the number of environmentally friendly vehicles and a further acceleration in the diversification of power sources for automobiles. It can be said that the decarbonization of mobility is entering an increasingly diverse stage of development, as decarbonized fuels, which are rapidly gaining momentum in Europe in particular, are becoming a realistic option. The increasing instability of world affairs and geopolitical risks have also highlighted the vulnerabilities of existing supply chains, while at the same time drawing greater attention to the instability of the supply of raw materials, such as rare metals, which are extremely unevenly distributed. In addition to these types of environmental changes, the diversification of automotive power is making it difficult to predict the future, as evidenced by the review of life cycle assessment of carbon dioxide emission reductions, which is an indicator in the quest for carbon neutrality.

For the Company, in order to overcome all possible scenarios and develop our business, we will continue to “strengthen the cost competitiveness of our core businesses,” “restructure our management base in response to crises,” and “expand our new core next-generation business and new products of non-internal combustion engines.”

In “strengthening cost competitiveness of our core businesses,” the Company aims to win the battle in existing engine parts such as piston rings, while expanding our existing non-internal combustion engines business and strengthening cost competitiveness. Until the mid-2020s, we will expand profits and business of existing parts and products, including engine-related parts, shift management resources, and streamline domestic and overseas investments with the keywords of building an optimal production system. We will subsequently manage and control strictly the investment in increased production of engine parts in particular, both in Japan and overseas, until around 2030, and promote rationalization and labor-saving investments.

In “restructuring of management base in response to crises,” we will strive to lower the break-even point by reviewing the operation system, streamlining operations, and further improving productivity. To achieve this, our policy is to continue to reduce fixed costs, such as labor and expenses, through measures such as selection and concentration without sanctuary, and to further promote business reforms through DX (Digital Transformation). By pursuing “cost competitiveness in our core businesses” and “restructuring our management base,” we will strengthen our capacity to generate cash flow from existing businesses and shift the cash we have generated to investments for the “expansion of our next-generation core businesses and new products in non-internal combustion engines,” as well as in reducing greenhouse gases in our manufacturing processes to achieve a decarbonized society, and in developing products with superior environmental performance.

Also, for the “expansion of our next-generation core businesses and new products in non-internal combustion engines,” by pursuing open innovation through business and capital alliances and joint development with other companies, will further accelerate the development of new products mainly for next-generation automobiles and the creation and expansion of non-automotive businesses through vertical and horizontal expansion taking advantage of M&A and other opportunities around existing non-automotive internal combustion engine business areas. For this reason, in addition to transforming “materials technologies” “processing technologies,” and “surface treatment technology” derived from our existing businesses into our next-generation core businesses and new products, we are developing “technologies related to new-type engines that utilize hydrogen, e-Fuel, and other next-generation fuels,” “technologies such as high-performance resins and technologies for heterogeneous material joining,” “EMC (electromagnetic compatibility) technologies for anechoic chambers, radio frequency absorbers, and next-generation noise suppression shields,” and “thermal engineering technologies for industrial electric furnaces and high-performance electric heating wires for high-temperature applications.” We will continue to invest aggressively in these businesses in order to develop advanced technologies that will lead to new products that are compatible with CASE and carbon neutrality, which have become popular in the world’s automotive and mobility industries, such as engineering technologies for industrial electric furnaces and high-performance electric heating wires for high temperature bands, and new engine technologies that utilize next-generation fuels. This May 9, NIPPON PIPE FITTING Corp., a manufacturer of plumbing fittings known as the Yubiwa brand, joined the Group. Through this addition, from now on we will further increase the ratio of sales of non-internal combustion engines and strive to further expand earnings by creating synergies with the existing piping components business.

Also, in light of the inconvenience and concern caused to our stakeholders by the illicit attacks on Company servers last fiscal year, we are building a robust cyber security system and will strive to prevent a recurrence by maintaining and improving this system.

By pursuing these measures, we will strive to strengthen the Company's competitiveness and continuously increase the Company's corporate value.

Lastly, regarding the business consolidation between the Company and Nippon Piston Ring Co., Ltd. after the basic agreement on July 27, 2022, the two companies have been discussing and considering the consolidation, and on May 23 of this year, the two companies signed a business consolidation agreement and formulated a share transfer plan.

Subject to the approval of the General Meeting of Shareholders, NPR-Riken Corporation will be established as of October 2 of this year as the wholly owning parent company of both companies by means of a mutual share transfer.

The Consolidation, in addition to strengthening the profitability of existing businesses centered on automotive engine parts, will allow the two companies to consolidate and effectively utilize their management resources to create the next core businesses and new products with a greater sense of urgency in the non-automotive engine parts domain, such as marine vessels, hydrogen, new energy projects, thermal engineering, EMC business, Metamold (metal powder injection molding parts), medical equipment, and axial gap motors (disk-shaped thin high torque motors). We will evolve into a completely new leading company that develops distinctive functional parts and key components globally that harness the techniques and technologies developed by both companies, and further enhance corporate value in line with the global trend toward carbon neutrality.

3-2 Amount of Director Compensation

(1) Policies Regarding the Determination of Details of Compensation for Officers, etc.

The following resolutions were passed at the General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 21, 2019 regarding compensation for officers.

As of the close of this General Meeting of Shareholders, there were eight (8) directors (excluding Director who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members) and three (3) Audit and Supervisory Committee members.

- Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members) “An annual amount not exceeding ¥400 million (including officers' bonuses)”
- Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members “not exceeding an annual amount of ¥60 million”
- Stock-based compensation (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members and outside Directors) “An annual amount not exceeding ¥100 million”

The Articles of Incorporation stipulate that the number of directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members) shall be limited to ten (10), and the number of Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members shall be limited to five (5). As of March 31, 2023, there were seven (7) Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members) and three (3) Audit and Supervisory Committee Members.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held on March 24, 2021, the Company resolved a policy for determining the content of compensation for individual Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members).

a. Basic Policy

Under the Company's compensation for officers system, a standard amount of total compensation for each officer's position (hereinafter referred to as "Standard Total Compensation") shall be set, and the Nomination and Compensation Committee shall annually verify the appropriateness of the standard amount by benchmarking each level of compensation to a middle level of listed companies in Japan based on the results of a compensation survey conducted by external compensation consultants.

The Standard Total Compensation shall consist of fixed compensation and performance-linked compensation in the form of cash bonuses and stock-based compensation.

Furthermore, Audit and Supervisory Committee member directors, external Directors, and foreign national directors who are paid an annual salary shall receive only fixed compensation.

b. The policy concerning the determination of the amount of compensation (monetary compensation not linked to performance) or the method of calculation thereof (including the policy concerning the determination of the timing or conditions of granting compensation, etc.)

Fixed compensation (cash) shall be paid on a monthly basis with a pre-determined standard amount based on the Standard Total Compensation based on the officer's position.

c. The policy concerning the determination of the details and the method of calculation of the amount or number of performance-linked compensation and non-monetary compensation (including the policy concerning the determination of the timing or conditions of granting compensation, etc.).

Cash bonuses, which are short-term performance-linked compensation, are determined annually by multiplying the evaluation coefficient, which is calculated as a result of a "company performance evaluation," using the consolidated ordinary profit target value of the Medium-term Management Plan and the Single-year Management Plan as the evaluation indicator and an "individual performance evaluation" of each officer, by a predetermined standard amount based on the Standard Total Compensation based on the officer's position. The amount shall be paid at a certain time each year.

<Calculation Method of the Short-term Performance-linked Compensation Payment Amount>

- Cash bonus = Cash bonus standard compensation x Company performance evaluation coefficient x Individual performance evaluation coefficient

As non-monetary compensation, etc., stock-based compensation (restricted stock), an incentive compensation that fluctuates based on performance, will be introduced to share a sense of profit with shareholders and to motivate them to achieve their medium to long term goals. The following two types of stock-based compensation (restricted stock) with different "restricted transfer periods" will be established.

- (i) Type I shares with transfer restrictions: For a period between two and five years, as determined by the Company's Board of Directors.
- (ii) Type II shares with transfer restrictions: 30-year restricted transfer period

Stock-based compensation (restricted stock) shall be paid at a certain time each year with a pre-determined base amount based on Standard Total Compensation based on the officer's position.

- d. Policy regarding the determination of the percentage of each type of compensation, etc.
The ratio of the amount of compensation by type shall be as follows.

Officer category	Composition of compensation for officers				Total
	Monetary compensation		Stock-based compensation
	Fixed compensation	Short-term performance-linked		Long-term performance-linked
		Bonus	Type I shares	Type II shares
Director	62%	13%	11%	14%	100%

(Note) 1: Excluding Outside Directors, Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members, and foreign national Directors.

(Note) 2: This table is a model for when 100% of the performance-linked compensation base amount is paid, and the above percentages will vary depending on the Company's performance, stock price fluctuations, etc.

- e. Matters concerning the determination of the details of compensation for individual Directors

Individual compensation for officers shall be categorized by Directors (excluding persons who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members) and those who are members of the Audit and Supervisory Committee. Compensation for Directors (excluding persons who are Audit and Supervisory Committee members) shall be deliberated and determined by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, while that for Audit and Supervisory Committee members shall be determined by the Board of Directors who are Audit and Supervisory Committee Members through discussion.

- (2) Reasons why the Board of Directors judged that compensation for individual Directors for the current fiscal year is in line with the policy for determining the content of compensation

Compensation for individual Directors is discussed by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, the majority of whose members are independent outside Directors, and passed a resolution by the Board of Directors based on the Committee's recommendation.

The Nomination and Compensation Committee, in deliberating and determining the details of compensation for individual Directors, considers the industry and the level of remuneration of other executives and employees of the Company, as well as the consistency of such details with the policy for determining the content of compensation. In addition, the Board of Directors also confirms that the details of compensation for individual Directors are in line with the policy for determining the content of compensation and determines compensation for individual Directors.

(3) Total amount of compensation, etc. for the current fiscal year

Officer category	Total amount of compensation, etc (millions of yen)	Total amount of compensation, etc by type (millions of yen)				Number of officers covered (Persons)
		Fixed compensation	Bonus	Stock options	Restricted stock-based compensation.
Directors (excluding Audit and Supervisory Committee members) (of which are Outside Directors)	247 (12)	150 (12)	38 (-)	- (-)	57 (-)	7 (2)
Director (Audit and Supervisory Committee Member) (of which are Outside Directors)	34 (16)	34 (16)	- (-)	- (-)	- (-)	3 (2)
Total (of which are Outside Directors)	281 (28)	185 (28)	38 (-)	- (-)	57 (-)	10 (4)

Bonuses to officers for the fiscal year are as follows and are included in the amount of compensation above.

- Officers' bonuses scheduled to be paid in June 2023

Director 42 Millions of yen (of which is external - millions of yen)

Under the Company's compensation for officers system, officer compensation consists of monthly remuneration as fixed compensation, a cash bonus as performance-linked compensation (excluding outside Directors and Audit and Supervisory Committee member members), and stock-based compensation (restricted stock). The amount of fixed compensation, cash bonus, and stock-based compensation for each officer position is determined in advance as a base amount based on the base amount of total compensation for each officer's position.

Based on the standard bonus amount, the ratio of fixed compensation to performance-linked compensation is generally 6:4.

Currently, there are two types of stock-based compensation (restricted stock) with different restricted transfer periods. Type I shares with a two-year restricted transfer period and Type II shares with a 30-year restricted transfer period. Type I shares are paid once a year to supplement cash bonuses as short-term performance-linked compensation and to raise awareness of the Company's performance and stock price. Type II shares are also paid once a year as long-term performance-linked compensation, with the restriction being lifted when the Company's officers actually retire from their positions as either Directors or Executive Officers.

Regarding cash bonuses, the amount of each officer's base bonus is determined by multiplying the evaluation coefficient calculated as a result of the "Company performance evaluation" and each officer's "Individual performance evaluation" by the standard bonus amount for each officer's position. The "Company performance evaluation" uses the consolidated ordinary profit target of the Medium-term Management Plan and the single-year Management Plan as the evaluation indicator. When a serious accident, scandal, or extraordinary loss occurs, the standard bonus amount is adjusted in consideration of the severity of the situation. The "Individual performance evaluation" is also based on the CEO's overall assessment of the contribution to management on a five-point scale based on the achievement of the three key issues, quantitative targets, and qualitative evaluation items. The reason for selecting the consolidated ordinary profit target as an evaluation indicator is that we judged that ordinary profit excluding extraordinary gains or losses, which is a temporary and transitory a gains or losses item, is an appropriate indicator of the company's ability.

While the consolidated ordinary profit targets of the Medium-term Management Plan and the single fiscal year management plan for FY2022 were ¥6,000 million and ¥6,100 million, respectively, the actual consolidated ordinary profit was ¥7,374 million, exceeding the targets. As a result, the evaluation coefficient for the "Company performance evaluation" was +30%.

As a result, the Company judged the amount of compensation, etc. to be appropriate and gave its consent as stipulated in Article 399, Paragraph 1 of the Companies Act.

The Board of Directors will then decide to convene the General Meeting of Shareholders to resolve on such proposal.

5. Basic Policy for the Control of the Company

The contents of the Basic Policy regarding who should control decisions regarding the financial and business policies of the Company, efforts to realize the Basic Policy, and “Measures to Respond to a Large-Scale Acquisition of Our Company’s Stock” are as follows:

<Basic Policy Regarding Who Should Oversee Decisions Regarding the Financial and Business Policies of the Company>

5-1 Details of the Basic Policy

As a publicly traded company, we believe that shareholders come to us thanks to a freedom to trade on the share market. Therefore, we believe that the final decision concerning whether or not to accept proposals regarding acquisitions accompanying the transfer of control of the Company should lie with the shareholders. Also, even if a Large-Scale Acquisition does occur, it will not generally be rejected if its purpose contributes to the Company’s corporate value and the common interests of its shareholders.

However, some large-scale share acquisitions can undermine the value of the Company or the common interests of our shareholders, including those that may virtually force shareholders into selling their shares or those that do not provide the Board of Directors and shareholders of the Company with the reasonably needed amount of time and information to consider the details of the acquisition. As an exception, the Company considers any person who undertakes this kind of inappropriate large-scale acquisitions to be unfit to oversee decisions concerning the financial and business policies of the Company.

5-2 Efforts that Contribute to the Realization of the Basic Policy

In order to ensure that many investors continue to invest in the Company over the long term, the Company implements the following measures to enhance the Company's corporate value and, in turn, the common interests of its shareholders.

We believe that these efforts will also contribute to the realization of the Basic Policy described in (1) above.

<Enhancement of Corporate Value Through the Implementation of our Management Philosophy and Medium-term Management Plan>

In 1927, RIKEN, formerly known as the Institute of Physical and Chemical Research, was founded to commercialize its own invention, the piston ring manufacturing method. Since then, the Company has been operating globally by providing a wide variety of products, including, of course, piston rings which are its core competency, camshafts and other internal-combustion engine parts, cast iron parts for automobiles and industrial machinery, piping materials, and products for thermal engineering and EMC businesses. The Company has defined the Group Mission Statements outlined in the following paragraph. It also sets out the following Guiding Principles: “Be Customer Driven. Be Compliant with the Law. Be focused on the Basics. Be Open. Be Proactive. Be Prompt.” In addition, it developed the Midterm Strategic Plan and the Annual Management Plan in its effort to help its customers strengthen their global competitiveness and to develop and sell products that are highly satisfactory in terms of quality, technology, and price.

<Mission Statement>

- We continue to be a corporate citizen committed to protecting global environment and serving the society in which we conduct our business.
- We are committed to creating corporate value from a global perspective by effectively utilizing the capital invested by our shareholders.

- We will offer products and services that continually exceed our global customers' increasing expectations through constant innovation and continued advancements in knowledge and technology.
- We have high aspirations and a broad vision, and we are always willing to change.

<Enhancement of Corporate Value by Improving Corporate Governance>

The Company aims for continuous improvement in corporate value by fulfilling its responsibilities in a variety of fields including economy, environment, and society. It regards the implementation of corporate governance as the top-priority management issue.

The Company has introduced an executive officer system to separate the business execution function from the management decision-making and supervision function.

The Company transitioned from a Company with a Board of Corporate Auditors to a "Company with an Audit and Supervisory Committee" in June 2019 in an effort to further strengthen the audit and supervisory functionality of the Board of Directors and to further promote corporate governance. The Company's Audit and Supervisory Committee consists of one Full-Time Audit Committee Member and two Outside Directors who are independent and maintain a neutral and fair position, thereby strengthening the functionality of the Audit and Supervisory Committee with respect to the directors' execution of their duties.

Furthermore, in May 2019, the Company established the Nomination and Compensation Committee, which is a voluntary advisory body with the majority of members being independent outside directors, in its efforts to reinforce the supervision function of the Board of Directors by assuring the transparency and objectivity of the procedure related to the nomination and compensation of directors, etc., and further enhance corporate governance.

Thus far, the Company has been working to appropriately operate management bodies (Board of Directors and Management Meeting) and ensure corporate transparency, efficiency and soundness, such as thorough compliance and complete risk management in accordance with the Basic Policy for Developing an Internal Control System (the development of systems necessary to ensure that the execution of the duties by the directors complies with the laws and regulations and the articles of incorporation, and other systems prescribed by Ministry of Justice Order as systems necessary to ensure the properness of operations of a Stock Company).

Furthermore, the Company has reinforced internal control by establishing the Sustainability Committee and the Compliance Committee, and works to improve further by having the entire Group oversee environmental activities, activities that contribute to society, accurate and appropriate information disclosure, the creation of CS (customer satisfaction), etc.

5-3 Overview of measures to prevent decisions concerning the financial and business policies of the Company from being controlled by persons deemed inappropriate in light of the Basic Policy.

In order to prevent decisions concerning the financial and business policies of the Company from being controlled by persons deemed inappropriate in light of the Basic Policy and to ensure and enhance the corporate value of the Company and, in turn, the common interests of its shareholders, at a Meeting of the Board of Directors held on May 24, 2022, the Company adopted the "Measures to Respond to a Large-Scale Acquisition of Our Company's Stocks" (hereinafter referred to as "the Plan"). Approval for the continuation of the Plan was obtained at the 98th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 24, 2022.

A Large-Scale Acquisition of Our Company's Stocks subject to the Plan is defined as an acquisition of the Company's shares with the aim of increasing the ratio of voting rights of a specific group of shareholders to 20% or more, or an acquisition of the Company's shares that results in a specific group of shareholders holding 20% or more of the voting rights of the Company, and an entity involved in such acquisitions is referred to as a "large-scale purchaser."

In this plan, certain rules regarding the provision of information and the allocation of sufficient time for consideration during a large-scale acquisition (referred to as the "Large-scale Acquisition Rules") are as follows: (1) The large-scale purchaser must provide adequate information to the Company's Board of Directors in advance; (2) After the completion of necessary information provision, in the case of a public tender offer for all shares of our company with cash consideration only, a maximum Board of Directors evaluation period of 60 days will be set or for other forms of large-scale acquisition, a maximum Board of Directors evaluation period to evaluate and consider of 90 days will be set. Upon the expiration of the Board of Directors evaluation period, the large-scale acquisition may commence. However, if a General Meeting of Shareholders is held to confirm the will of shareholders regarding the details of the countermeasure, the Large-Scale Acquisition may not be commenced until the procedures for implementation or non-implementation of the countermeasure have been completed.

Under the Plan, when a large-scale purchaser complies with the Large-scale Acquisition Rules, the Company will not, in principle, take any countermeasures against the large-scale purchase. However, in the event that a large-scale purchaser fails to comply with the above-mentioned Large-scale Acquisition Rule, or even if the large-scale purchaser complies with the above-mentioned Large-scale Acquisition Rule, when it is judged that the large-scale acquisition will cause irreparable damage to the Company or otherwise materially damage the Company's corporate value and/or the common interests of shareholders, the Company can, to the extent necessary and reasonable, implement countermeasures that can be considered under the Companies Act, other laws, and the Company's Articles of Incorporation, such as the gratis allotment of share acquisition rights.

In this way, in the event that countermeasures are taken, in order to ensure the reasonableness and fairness of such judgments, the Board of Directors, prior to judging whether or not to take the countermeasures, shall consult with an Independent Committee consisting of outside Directors who are independent of the management team that conducts the Company's business, or members appointed from outside experts, as to the appropriateness of taking the countermeasures. The Independent Committee shall make a recommendation on the appropriateness of taking the countermeasures within the Board of Directors evaluation period. In judging whether or not to implement countermeasures, the Company's Board of Directors will follow the recommendation of the Independent Committee.

Furthermore, the effective period of the Plan shall expire at the conclusion of the 101st Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders of the Company to be held in June 2025. However, (1) if a resolution is passed at a General Meeting of Shareholders of the Company for the cancellation of the Plan, or (2) if such a resolution is passed by the Board of Directors of the Company, the Plan shall be canceled immediately.

For more information on the Plan, please refer to the Company's website at <https://www.riken.co.jp/>.

5-4 That Complies With Our Basic Policies and Seeks to Enhance the Common Interests of Our Shareholders, Instead of Focusing on Maintaining the Positions of the Company Executives

The efforts mentioned above in (2) to enhance the corporate value of the Company and, in turn, the common interests of its shareholders are in line with the Basic Policy. As described in (3) above, in designing this Plan, we have given due consideration to the following points the Company has given due consideration and believes that this Plan is in line with the Basic Policy and consistent with the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of its shareholders, and believes it is not aimed at maintaining the status of the Company's Executives.

- 1) The Plan satisfies the requirements of policies regarding takeover defense measures.
- 2) The Plan with the aim of securing and improving the common interests of shareholders continues.
- 3) The plan reflects the intent of the shareholders.
- 4) The Plan respects the decision made by independent external entities.
- 5) The Plan does not constitute a dead-hand or slow-hand takeover defense measure.

6. Policy Regarding Determination of Dividends from Surplus, etc.

Regarding the distribution of surplus earnings, the Company believes that its basic policy is to maintain a stable dividend level by paying an interim dividend and a year-end dividend twice a year, taking into consideration the Company's business performance, dividend payout ratio, etc.

The Company will use retained earnings to invest in future business growth and to strengthen its financial position.

Basis for Opinion

We performed our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under the standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in accordance with the provisions related to professional ethics in Japan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities as auditors. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Statements

The other statements are the Business Report and supplementary schedules. Management is responsible for the preparation and disclosure of the other statements. The Audit and Supervisory Committee are also responsible for overseeing execution of duties by Directors relating to the design and operation of the reporting process for the other statements.

Our audit opinion on the Consolidated Financial Statements does not include other statements, and we express no opinion on other statements.

Our responsibility in the audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements is to read through the other statements and, in the course of reading through the other statements, to consider whether there are material differences between the other statements and the Consolidated Financial Statements or knowledge we have acquired in the course of our audit. We also pay attention to whether there are any other indications of material errors in the other statements.

Based on the work we have performed, we are required to report that fact when we judge that there are material errors in the other statements.

We have no matters to report with respect to the other statements.

Responsibilities of Management and the Audit and Supervisory Committee for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the Non-consolidated Financial Statements and Schedules in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, and for the design and operation of internal controls that management determines are necessary to enable the preparation and fair presentation of the Consolidated Financial Statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

5. Matters related to accounting policies

(1) Valuation criteria and methods for significant assets

(i) Securities

Held-to-maturity debt securities:

Calculated using the amortized cost method (straight-line method).

Other securities

Other than stocks and other securities with no market value:

Calculated using the market value method (valuation differences are processed by the total direct capitalization method and the cost of sales is determined by the moving average method).

Stocks, etc. without market prices:

Calculated using the cost method using the moving-average method.

(ii) Inventories:

Mainly calculated using the cost method (a method of book value devaluation determined on decline in profitability) using the moving-average method.

(iii) Derivatives:

Market value method

(2) Methods of depreciation and amortization of significant depreciable assets

Property, plant and equipment (excluding leased assets):

Mainly calculated using the declining-balance method.

However, we apply the straight-line method to buildings (excluding building fixtures) acquired on or after April 1, 1998 and for building fixtures and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016. Useful life and residual value are mainly calculated using the same criteria as stipulated in the Corporation Tax Law.

Intangible assets (excluding leased assets):

Calculated using the straight-line method. Useful life is mainly determined by the same criteria as stipulated in the Corporation Tax Law.

Software (for internal use) is amortized by the straight-line method based on the period of internal use (5 to 10 years).

Leased assets:

Leased assets related to finance lease transactions that transfer ownership of the leased assets to the lessee are calculated using the same depreciation method as that applied to owned fixed assets. Lease assets related to finance lease transactions that do not transfer ownership of the leased assets to the lessee are calculated using a method in which the lease period is deemed as the useful life of the asset and the residual value is set at zero.

(3) Criteria for recording significant allowances

Allowance for doubtful accounts:

To provide for possible bad debt losses, the Company records allowances for general receivables based on historical bad debt ratios, and allowances for specific doubtful receivables based on the financial condition assessment method.

Allowance for bonuses:

To provide for the payment of bonuses to employees, the Company provides for the estimated amount of bonuses to be paid to employees, which is attributable to the current consolidated fiscal year.

Allowance for environmental measures:

To provide for expenditures for the disposal of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), an estimated amount of expenditures that can be reasonably estimated was recorded.

Allowance for product warranties:

Domestic consolidated subsidiaries provide for expenditures for repair work projected to be incurred in the Radio Frequency Anechoic Chambers/Shield Rooms business by posting an estimated amount of expenditures that can be reasonably estimated.

(4) Criteria for recording significant income and expenses

The Group is primarily engaged in the manufacture and sale of automotive and machinery parts. We also construct Radio Frequency Anechoic Chambers/Shield Rooms

With respect to sales of merchandise and products, the performance obligation is satisfied when the merchandise and products are delivered to the customer; therefore, income is recognized at that point in time.

Also, for the construction of Radio Frequency Anechoic Chambers/Shield Rooms, the Company recognizes income based on the percentage of completion based on the cost incurred when the performance obligation is fulfilled over a certain period of time based on the contract and the degree of completion can be reasonably estimated. Also, when the degree of progress cannot be reasonably estimated, we recognize as income an amount equal to the section of the cost incurred that is expected to be recovered.

(5) Method of accounting for retirement benefits

(i) Method of attributing estimated retirement benefits to periods of service

In calculating retirement benefit obligations, we calculate the estimated amount of retirement benefits attributed to the period through the end of the current consolidated fiscal year using the benefit calculation method.

(ii) Method of processing prior service costs and actuarial calculation differences

We process prior service costs based on a certain number of years (10 years) within the average remaining service period of employees when incurred.

Actuarial calculation differences are amortized by the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 to 13 years) within the average remaining service period of employees at the time of accrual of each consolidated fiscal year and the amount is amortized from the following consolidated fiscal year from when incurred.

(6) Criteria for converting foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities into Japanese yen

Assets and liabilities of overseas subsidiaries are translated into yen at the spot exchange rate prevailing at the end of the fiscal year, income and expenses are translated into yen at the average exchange rate during the fiscal year, and translation adjustments are included in foreign currency translation adjustments and noncontrolling interests in net assets.

(7) Processing of hedge accounting

Method of hedge accounting:

The Company has adopted deferred hedge processing. The allocation method is applied to forward exchange contracts when they meet the requirements for the allocation processing.

Hedging methods:

Forward exchange contracts

Hedging target:

Operating receivables in foreign currencies

Hedging policy:

Our basic policy on derivatives transactions is determined by the Management Committee, which has established internal management regulations that stipulate transaction authority and transaction limits, and we use forward exchange contracts to avoid foreign exchange fluctuation risks.

Method of evaluating hedging effectiveness:

Forward exchange contracts are based on scheduled future transactions (e.g., exports), and the assessment of validity is omitted because the probability of execution is extremely high.

(Changes in accounting policies)

Not applicable.

(Notes regarding Accounting Estimates)

1. Impairment of fixed assets

(1) Amount recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements

Major fixed assets of domestic subsidiaries that have been identified as impaired (After impairment loss is recorded)

Buildings and structures	1,302 millions of yen
Machinery, equipment and vehicles	441 millions of yen
Land	714 millions of yen
Other	314 millions of yen

Major fixed assets of the Company's business units that have been identified as impaired.

Buildings and structures	649 millions of yen
Machinery, equipment and vehicles	1,098 millions of yen
Land	55 millions of yen
Other	11 millions of yen

(2) Information that contributes to an understanding of the details of accounting estimates

In the current consolidated fiscal year, the Company identified signs of impairment for the fixed assets of the Company's business units that have reported operating losses for two consecutive fiscal years, and compared the total undiscounted future cash flows from the division's operations with the carrying amount of the assets. As a result of comparing the total undiscounted future cash flows from the operations of the units with their carrying amount, no impairment loss was recognized because such undiscounted cash flows exceeded its carrying amount.

Also, during the current consolidated fiscal year, the Company identified an impairment loss for a domestic subsidiary that has reported operating losses for two consecutive fiscal years and a domestic subsidiary that is expected to continue to report operating losses. As a result of comparing the total undiscounted future cash flows from the operations of the subsidiary with its carrying amount, an impairment loss was recognized for the subsidiary whose undiscounted cash flows were less than its carrying amount.

We estimate these future results and cash flows based on the assumption that profitability will improve to a certain degree in the next fiscal year and thereafter.

In the event that the assumptions used in these estimates need to be revised due to external changes in the environment, such as a shortage of semiconductors or increases in raw material prices and energy costs, additional impairment losses may be recognized in the next fiscal year.

2. Recoverability of deferred tax assets

(1) Amount recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements

Company has recorded deferred tax assets of 1,090 million yen as described in the Notes regarding Tax Effect Accounting in the Notes regarding Non-Consolidated Financial Statements.

(2) Information that contributes to an understanding of the details of accounting estimates

As described in the Notes regarding Tax Effect Accounting in the Notes regarding Non-Consolidated Financial Statements, the Company has deferred tax assets of 3,163 million yen before offsetting deferred tax liabilities and deducting valuation allowance of 905 million yen from the total deferred tax assets of 4,068 million yen related to the temporary differences that will be deducted in the future

The Company judges the recoverability of deferred tax assets by estimating taxable income within a reasonably estimable period (generally five years) in the future. Estimates of such taxable income are affected by factors such as the forecasted production volume of the automotive industry, which is closely related to the Company.

If the assumptions used in these estimates need to be revised due to changes in the external environment, such as a shortage of semiconductors or increases in raw material and energy costs, there is a possibility that deferred tax assets that are not expected to be recovered will be reversed in the following consolidated fiscal year.

Automobile parts manufacturing equipment	Other	Kashiwazaki City, Niigata Prefecture	65

(Background)

In the automobile parts manufacturing equipment, the Company and its subsidiaries recognized impairment losses as signs of impairment based on the “Accounting Criteria for Impairment of Fixed Assets” were recognized due to a decline in profitability, etc.

(Methods of grouping)

The Company's automotive parts manufacturing equipment is grouped as a cash flow-generating unit, independent of the Company's business units and subsidiaries, that conducts the relevant manufacturing. For idle assets that are not expected to be used in the future, they are grouped into individual asset units based on management accounting classifications.

(Calculation method of recoverable amount, etc.)

(Notes regarding Financial Instruments)

1. Matters related to the status of financial instruments

(1) Policy regarding financial instruments

The Group's principle investment policy is to use short-term deposits, etc., for fund management, and also to procure funds mainly through borrowings from banks and other financial institutions. Derivatives are used to hedge the risk of exchange rate fluctuations in accounts receivable, etc but the Company does not engage in speculative transactions.

(2) Description of financial instruments, their risks and risk management systems

Trade notes and accounts receivable which are operating receivables are exposed to customer credit risk. To manage this risk, the Company manages due dates and outstanding balances by counterparty in accordance with the Group's credit management regulations.

We monitor market price fluctuations for stocks, which are investment securities.

For notes and accounts payable-trade, which are operating obligations, most of the payment due dates are within one year.

Long-term borrowings (generally within 5 years) are mainly for financing capital expenditures and M&A.

The Company executes and manages derivatives transactions in accordance with internal rules that stipulate transaction authority. In addition, in order to mitigate credit risk when using derivatives, we only enter into transactions with financial institutions with high credit ratings.

2. Matters related to the fair value of financial instruments

As of March 31, 2023, the consolidated balance sheet amounts, fair values, and their differences are as follows. Stocks and other securities with no market value (consolidated balance sheet amount: 5,976 million yen) are not included in (1) Investment securities. Also, for cash and deposits, trade notes and accounts receivable, and trade notes and accounts payable, notes are omitted because the fair values approximate their book values due to their short maturities.

(Millions of yen)

	Consolidated balance sheets Balance sheet amounts (*1)	Fair value (*1)	Difference
(1) Investment securities
Affiliated companies' shares	5,300	7,749	2,449
Other securities	11,867	11,867	–
(2) Long-term borrowings (including current portion of long-term borrowings)	(10,000)	(9,857)	(142)
(3) Derivatives transactions (*2)	15	15	–

(*1) Items recorded in liabilities are shown in parentheses.

(*2) Net receivables and obligations arising from derivative transactions are presented on a net basis, and items that, in the aggregate, result in a net liability are presented in parentheses.

3. Matters related to the breakdown of the fair value of financial instruments by appropriate category

The fair value of financial instruments is classified into the following three levels based on the observability and materiality of the inputs used to calculate fair value.

Level 1 fair value: Of the inputs used to calculate the observable fair value, the fair value calculated based on quoted market prices for the assets or liabilities for which such fair value is calculated that are formed in an active market.

Level 2 fair value: Of the inputs used to calculate the observable fair value, the fair value calculated using the inputs used to calculate the fair value other than Level 1 inputs.

Level 3 fair value: Fair value calculated using inputs for unobservable fair value calculations

When multiple inputs that have a significant impact on the calculation of fair value are used, fair value is classified to the level with the lowest priority in the calculation of fair value among the levels to which each of those inputs belongs.

(1) Financial instruments whose fair value is recognized in the consolidated balance sheets

(Millions of yen)

Category	Fair value
	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Investment securities
Other securities	11,867	–	–	11,867

(2) Financial instruments whose fair value is not recognized in the consolidated balance sheets

(Millions of yen)

Category	Fair value
	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Investment securities
Affiliated companies' shares	7,749	–	–	7,749
Long-term borrowings (including current portion of long-term borrowings)	–	9,857	–	9,857
Derivatives transactions	–	15	–	15

Notes: Description of valuation techniques and inputs used in the calculation of fair value

Other marketable securities and stocks of affiliated companies are listed stocks and are valued using quoted market prices. Listed stocks are classified as Level 1 fair value because they are traded in an active market.

The fair value of long-term borrowings (including current portion of long-term borrowings) is calculated based on the discounted present value of the total principal and interest and the interest rate that takes into account the remaining term of the obligations and credit risk, and is classified as Level 2 fair value.

Derivatives transactions are classified as Level 2 fair value using the discounted current value method with observable inputs such as foreign exchange rates.

NIPPON PIPE FITTING manufactures and sells an extensive lineup of piping fittings and enjoys a position as one of the leading players in the industry, maintaining strong relationships with many customers over the years for this reason for our high-quality product capabilities.

While NIPPON PIPE FITTING has a solid presence in the field of gas pipe fittings, we recognize that our core products are accurately segregated from those of Company. In order for both companies to continue to properly and timely fulfill their supply responsibilities in the manufacture and sale of piping fittings, which are important products that support lifelines, the acquisition of these shares is expected to generate extensive synergies. In addition to enabling significant productivity improvements and the establishment of a sustainable structure capable of supplying high quality products, the decision to acquire the shares was based on our belief that the acquisition will accelerate the Company's efforts to become carbon neutral and to address climate change issues.

By welcoming NIPPON PIPE FITTING to the Group, the Company aims to achieve sustainable growth and increased corporate value through mid- to long-term management stability by continuously providing customers with high-quality products that leverage the strengths of both companies.

Notes to the Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

(Notes regarding matters concerning significant accounting policies)

1. Amounts are rounded down to the nearest million yen.

2. Asset valuation criteria and methods
 - (1) Securities
 - Held-to-maturity debt securities:
 - Calculated using the amortized cost method (straight-line method).
 - Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates:
 - Calculated using the cost method using the moving-average method.
 - Other securities
 - Other than stocks and other securities with no market value:
 - Calculated using the market value method (valuation differences are processed by the total direct capitalization method and the cost of sales is determined by the moving average method).
 - Stocks, etc. without market prices:
 - Calculated using the cost method using the moving-average method.
 - (2) Inventories:
 - Cost method based on the moving average method (method of writing down the book value of assets due a decline in profitability)
 - (3) Derivatives:
 - Market value method

3. Fixed assets depreciation method:
 - Property, plant and equipment (excluding leased assets):
 - Calculated using the declining-balance method.
 - However, we apply the straight-line method to buildings (excluding building fixtures) acquired on or after April 1, 1998 and for building fixtures and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016. Useful life and residual value are determined based on the same criteria as stipulated in the Corporation Tax Law
 - Intangible assets (excluding leased assets):
 - Calculated using the straight-line method.
 - Useful life is determined based on the same criteria as stipulated in the Corporation Tax Law
 - Note that software (for internal use) is amortized by the straight-line method based on the period of internal use (5 to 10 years).
 - Leased assets:
 - Leased assets related to finance lease transactions that transfer ownership of the leased assets to the lessee are calculated using the same depreciation method as that applied to owned fixed assets. Lease assets related to finance lease transactions that do not transfer ownership of the leased assets to the lessee are calculated using a method in which the lease period is deemed as the useful life of the asset and the residual value is set at zero.

4. Criteria for recording allowances

Allowance for doubtful accounts:

To provide for possible bad debt losses, the Company records allowances for general receivables based on historical bad debt ratios, and allowances for specific doubtful receivables based on the financial condition assessment method.

Allowance for bonuses:

To provide for the payment of bonuses to employees, the Company records the estimated amount of bonuses to be paid to employees attributable to the fiscal year.

Allowance for retirement benefits:

To provide for the payment of retirement benefits to employees, the Company records an amount based on the projected benefit obligations and pension benefit assets at the end of the fiscal year. When the estimated amount of pension assets is less than the estimated amount of projected benefit obligations plus or minus unrecognized prior service costs and unrecognized actuarial calculation differences, the difference is recorded as allowance for retirement benefits, and when the difference exceeds the projected benefit obligations, the excess amount is recorded as prepaid pension cost.

(i) Method of attributing estimated retirement benefits to periods of service

In calculating retirement benefit obligations, the estimated amount of retirement benefits is attributed to the period up to the end of the current fiscal year based on the benefit calculation method.

(ii) Method of processing prior service costs and actuarial calculation differences

Prior service costs are amortized by the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 years) within the average remaining service period of employees at the time the cost is incurred.

Actuarial calculation differences are amortized by the straight-line method over a fixed number of years (10 years) within the average remaining service period of employees at the time of occurrence of each fiscal year, with the amount prorated from the following fiscal year of occurrence.

The method of accounting for unrecognized actuarial calculation differences and unrecognized prior service costs related to retirement benefits differs from the method of accounting for these items in the consolidated financial statements.

Allowance for environmental measures:

To provide for expenditures for disposal of polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), etc., the Company records an estimated amount of expenditures that can be reasonably estimated.

5. Criteria for recording significant income and expenses

The company is primarily engaged in the manufacture and sale of automotive and machinery parts. For the sale of such goods and products, the performance obligation is satisfied when the goods and products are delivered to the customer, and therefore income is recognized at that time.

6. Processing of hedge accounting

Method of hedge accounting:

The Company has adopted deferred hedge processing. The allocation method is applied to forward exchange contracts when they meet the requirements for the allocation processing.

Hedging methods:

Forward exchange contracts

Hedging target:

Operating receivables in foreign currencies

Hedging policy:

Our basic policy on derivatives transactions is determined by the Management Committee, which has established internal management regulations that stipulate transaction authority and transaction limits, and we use forward exchange contracts to avoid foreign exchange fluctuation risks.

Method of evaluating hedging effectiveness:

Forward exchange contracts are based on scheduled future transactions (e.g., exports), and the assessment of validity is omitted because the probability of execution is extremely high.

(Notes regarding Accounting Estimates)

1. Impairment of fixed assets

(1) Amount recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements

Major fixed assets of the Company's business units that were identified in determining the indication of impairment

Buildings and structures	649 millions of yen
Machinery, equipment and vehicles	1,098 millions of yen
Land	55 millions of yen
Other	11 millions of yen

(2) Information that contributes to an understanding of the details of accounting estimates

In the current consolidated fiscal year, the Company identified signs of impairment for the fixed assets of business units that have reported operating losses for two consecutive fiscal years, and compared the total undiscounted future cash flows from the division's operations with the carrying amount of the assets. As a result of comparing the total undiscounted future cash flows from the operations of the units with their carrying amount, no impairment loss was recognized because such undiscounted cash flows exceeded its carrying amount.

We estimate these future results and cash flows based on the assumption that profitability will improve to a certain degree in the next fiscal year and thereafter.

In the event that the assumptions used in these estimates need to be revised due to external changes in the environment, such as a shortage of semiconductors or increases in raw material prices and energy costs, additional impairment losses may be recognized in the next fiscal year.

2. Recoverability of deferred tax assets

(1) Amount recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements

Deferred tax assets 1,090 millions of yen

(2) Information that contributes to an understanding of the details of accounting estimates

As stated in the notes to the financial statements regarding tax effect accounting, the Company has deferred tax assets of 3,163 million yen before offsetting deferred tax liabilities and total deferred tax assets of 4,068 million yen related to temporary differences, less a valuation allowance of 905 million yen.

The Company judges the recoverability of deferred tax assets by estimating taxable income within a reasonably estimable period (generally five years) in the future. Estimates of such taxable income are affected by factors such as the forecasted production volume of the automotive industry, which is closely related to the Company.

If the assumptions used in these estimates need to be revised due to changes in the external environment, such as a shortage of semiconductors or increases in raw material and energy costs, there is a possibility that deferred tax assets that are not expected to be recovered will be reversed in the next consolidated fiscal year.

Business Report

Fiscal year under review:
(April 1, 2022 to March 31, 2023)

1. Outlook of the Company

(1) Business Status for the Fiscal Year

① Progress and Results of the Business

During the fiscal year under review, the global economy continued to recover moderately amid the progress of normalization of economic activities based on the assumption of the new norm to coexist with COVID-19. However, due to reasons such as international instability caused by the prolonged conflict in Ukraine, the surge in resource and energy prices worldwide, continuous interest rate hikes, and the bankruptcy of financial institutions in the United States, the situation continued to be unstable.

In Japan, although affected by the seventh to eighth waves of COVID-19, there were signs of recovery due to the easing of restrictions on activities and the effects of various policies. On the other hand, the rapid depreciation of the yen due to the widening interest rate differential between Japan and the United States led to higher commodity prices, and the pace of recovery remained slow.

In the automobile industry, in which the Company operates, the impact of the shortage of in-vehicle semiconductors and the stagnant supply of parts continued, but there was a recovery trend from the same period of the previous fiscal year when we were compelled major production adjustments, and the global automobile production volume increased.

Within such business environment, the Company recorded net sales of 58,524 million yen (up 15.2% year-on-year), due to the effects of the depreciation of yen and the capture of demand in line with customer trends, in addition to the effects mentioned above.

In terms of profit and loss, although various cost increases associated with soaring raw materials and fuel costs and the depreciation of the yen were offset by price increases and cost reductions, operating income was 2,385 million yen (down 9.2% year-on-year), ordinary income was 2,755 million yen (down 9.9% year-on-year), and profit attributable to owners of parent was 1,808 million yen (down 6.3% year-on-year).

In the financial position, interest-bearing debt decreased by 1,911 million yen from the end of the previous fiscal year to 13,107 million yen. Shareholders' equity was 36,091 million yen and shareholder's equity ratio was 52.4%.

Our business results by segment for the fiscal year under review are as follows.

(A) Automotive Products Segment

In the automotive products segment, despite the continued impact of in-vehicle semiconductors shortage and stagnant supply of parts, global automobile production increased year-on-year, and with the effect of the depreciation of the yen and the capture of demand in line with customer trends, net sales amounted to 49,853 million yen, up 13.6% year-on-year.

(a) Piston Rings

Net sales increased 14.8% year-on-year to 29,611 million yen, mainly due to an increase in automobile production.

(b) Valve Seats

Net sales was 10,427 million yen (up 12.7% year-on-year), mainly due to an increase in automobile production.

(c) Other Automotive Products

Net sales for other automotive products was 9,814 million yen (up 11.0% year-on-year).

(B) Products for Marine Engine and Other Products Segment

Net sales in products for marine engine and other products segment was 2,241 million yen (down 4.9% year-on-year), due to a decrease in demand for products for industrial equipment, which temporarily increased in the previous fiscal year.

(C) Others

Net sales in other segments, including merchandise sales business, was 6,429 million yen (up 41.5% year-on-year), mainly due to the consolidation of Normeca Asia Co., Ltd.
 (Note) “(C) Others” includes net sales 2,608 million yen as “bearing parts” and net sales 1,170 million yen as “RV-related products.”

Specifically, remuneration for Directors responsible for business execution consists of basic remuneration, performance-based remuneration, and share-based remuneration. Remuneration for Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members and Outside Directors responsible for supervisory functions consists of basic remuneration only.

In order to fulfill the accountability to shareholders and other stakeholders with regard to the content of remuneration for Directors, the Company ensures rationality, objectivity, and transparency in both the content of remuneration and the decision-making process.

(c) Remuneration Structure for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members and Outside Directors)

The remuneration for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members and Outside Directors) consists of basic remuneration, which is a fixed remuneration, and performance-based remuneration and share-based remuneration, which fluctuate depending on business performance. The ratio of basic remuneration, performance-based remuneration and share-based remuneration is approximately 7:2:1.

i. Basic Remuneration

Basic remuneration is a monetary fixed remuneration paid on a monthly basis. The amount of basic remuneration shall be determined according to the position, responsibility, and other factors, and shall be reviewed as appropriate and based on deliberations and reports by the Remuneration Advisory Committee in consideration of performance, remuneration packages at other companies, social conditions, etc.

ii. Performance-based Remuneration

• Details of the Performance Indicator and the Reasons for Their Selection

In order to realize sustainable enhancement of corporate value, the Company strives to improve growth potential and efficiency, and for performance-based remuneration for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members and Outside Directors), ordinary income (consolidated) is used as an indicator taking into account the characteristics of the Company's business.

- Method for Calculating the Amount or Number of Performance-based Remuneration

The Company introduced performance-based remuneration into monetary remuneration for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members and Outside Directors). Performance-based remuneration under monetary remuneration is paid at a certain time every year, up to a maximum of 100 million yen, calculated using the consolidated ordinary income of each fiscal year as an indicator in order to raise awareness of performance improvement, and based on points corresponding to each Director's position based on the following formula determined by the Board of Directors. The reason for using consolidated ordinary income as an indicator is based on the judgment that non-operating profits and losses, such as interest costs and incomes and foreign exchange profits and losses, for which risk control should be carried out in the course of management, should also be taken into consideration.

Changes in ordinary income (consolidated) including the fiscal year under review are as described in "(2) Status of Assets, Profit and Loss," under "1. Status of the Company" and the payment month is June.

Method of Calculation for Performance-based Remuneration

Consolidated ordinary income (rounded down to the nearest million yen) \times 1.2% = a (rounded down to the nearest million yen)

a \times each Director's points / Total points of Directors

Number and points of Directors by position

Position	Number of persons	Points	Total points
Representative Director and President	1	100	100
Representative Director and Executive Vice President	0	82	0
Representative Director and Senior Managing Executive Officer	1	77	77
Director and Managing Executive Officer	3	68	204
Total	5	-	381

(Notes) The above figures are calculated based on the number of Directors as of March 31 2023.

(Other Considerations)

- Directors are executive officers as stipulated in Article 34, Paragraph 1, Item 3 of the Corporation Tax Act.
- The consolidated ordinary income (“indicators on profits” as stipulated in Article 34, Paragraph 1, Item 3 (a) of the Corporation Tax Act) used in the above formula is the consolidated ordinary income before performance-based remuneration is recorded as expenses.
- The “defined amount” as stipulated in Article 34, Paragraph 1, Item 3 (a) (1) of the Corporation Tax Act is limited to 100 million yen.
- The difference due to the rounding of individual payments is deducted from the amount paid to the Representative Director and President.
- In the event that a Director leaves office during the period of execution of his/her duties due to unavoidable circumstances, remuneration is paid based on the number of months the Director has been enrolled in during the period of execution of his/her duties (rounded up to one month).

iii. Non-monetary Remuneration

For the purpose of providing an incentive to further share value with shareholders and to improve medium- to long-term business performance by having Directors who are responsible for business execution acquire and hold a certain amount of shares during their term, the Company grants such Directors restricted stocks with a transfer restriction period of 25 years at a certain time each year. The number of shares to be granted is determined based on the position, responsibilities, share price, and other factors.

(d) Reasons for the Board of Directors to Determine that the Contents of the Remuneration for Individual Directors are in Line with the Policy

In determining the content of the remuneration, etc. for individual Directors, the Nomination and Remuneration Advisory Committee, which the majority of its members are comprised of Outside Directors, examines the draft from various angles, including the consistency with the decision policy. The Board of Directors also thoroughly considers the draft to be in line with the decision policy based on the report of the Advisory Committee.

⑤ Matters Related to Resolutions of the General Meeting of Shareholders with Respect to Remuneration for Directors

At the 127th Annual General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 24, 2021, the remuneration ceiling for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members) was approved at “not more than 280 million yen per annum (including officers’ bonuses)” (of which, the portion for Outside Directors is within 30 million yen per annum), and the remuneration ceiling for Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members was approved at not more than 53 million yen per annum.

However, the amount of remuneration for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members) does not include salaries as employees of Directors who concurrently serve as employees.

In addition, at said Annual General Meeting of Shareholders, it has been separately approved that transfer restricted share-based remuneration be introduced for Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members and Outside Directors) and that the ceiling of monetary claims thereto is 70 million yen or less per year.

There were six (6) Directors (excluding Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members) at the conclusion of the said General Meeting of Shareholders (including one (1) Outside Director) and three (3) Directors who are Audit & Supervisory Committee Members (including two (2) Outside Directors).

Opinion

We have audited, pursuant to Article 444, Paragraph 4 of the Companies Act of Japan, the accompanying consolidated financial statements, which comprise the consolidated balance sheet, the consolidated statement of profit and loss, the consolidated statements of changes in net assets and the notes to consolidated financial statements, of Nippon Piston Ring Co., Ltd. (the "Company") for the fiscal year from April 1, 2022 to March 31, 2023.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position and the financial performance of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries for the period covered by the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Basis for the Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in accordance with the relevant professional ethical requirements in Japan, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information

The other information comprises the Business Report and its accompanying supplementary schedules. Management is responsible for the preparation and disclosure of the other information and the Audit & Supervisory Committee is responsible for overseeing the Directors' execution of duties relating to the design and operation of the reporting process of the other information.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the descriptions in other information and we do not express any form of opinion thereon.

Our responsibility in connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the course of the audit or otherwise pay close attention to appearances of material misstatements.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and the Audit & Supervisory Committee for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, and for the design and operation of such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the appropriateness of use of the going concern basis of accounting and disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in Japan.

The Audit & Supervisory Committee is responsible for overseeing the performance of duties of the Directors in the design and operation of the Company's financial reporting process.

Our responsibilities are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an opinion in a report from an independent standpoint. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances when assessing the risks, while the purpose of the consolidated financial statements audit is not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies and their applications which management adopted, and the reasonableness of the accounting estimates and the appropriateness of the related disclosures made by management.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Financial Statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

(2) Basic Policy on the Control over the Company

The details of the basic policy on requirements for persons who control the Company's decisions on financial and business policies, initiatives contributing to achieving the basic policy, and countermeasures against large-scale purchase actions for the Company's shares (the "Plan") are as follows.

① Basic policy on requirements for persons who control the Company's decisions on financial and business policies

The Company believes that it is desirable that persons who control the Company's decisions on financial and business matters have a full understanding of the Company's financial and business matters and of the source of its corporate value, and are capable of ensuring and enhancing the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our shareholders in a continuous and sustainable manner.

Nevertheless, as a corporate entity listed on a financial instruments exchange, the Company respects the free trading of the Company's shares in the market and will not absolutely deny any large-scale purchase action by a specific party, as long as it contributes to the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our shareholders. The Company also believes that the decision as to whether to agree to a proposal for a large-scale purchase of shares should ultimately be made pursuant to the wishes of the shareholders.

However, recently in Japan's capital market, there are some cases in which a large-scale share purchase action is undertaken "hostilely" without going through a sufficient discussion and agreement process with the management team of the target company, and many such large-scale purchase actions do not contribute to the corporate value of the target company or the common interests of its shareholders. These include 1) those that may clearly harm the corporate value and common interests of shareholders in light of the objectives of the takeover and/or management policies after the takeover; 2) those that may effectively force shareholders to sell their shares; 3) those that do not provide sufficient time or information for the Board of Directors or shareholders to consider the terms, etc. of the purchase or for the Board of Directors to present an alternative proposal; and 4) those that require the target company to negotiate with the purchaser in order to procure conditions more favorable than those originally proposed by the purchaser.

Furthermore, as outlined below in ②I. below, "The Company's Corporate Philosophy and Source of corporate value," the Company's business is based on the collaboration of various stakeholders, including our customer companies, employees, and local communities. Creating a sound system that enables these stakeholders to involve themselves in our business with confidence, and providing a stable supply of cutting-edge and high-quality services required globally are essential factors in raising the Company's corporate value. Unless the person(s) undertaking the large-scale purchase of the Company's shares can ensure and enhance the Company's corporate value in the medium- and long-term based on an understanding of these sources of the Company's corporate value, it is possible that the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our shareholders will be damaged.

The Company believes that those who conduct such inappropriate large-scale purchases are not appropriate as individuals who control the Company's decisions on financial and business policies, and further believes that it is necessary to ensure the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our shareholders by taking necessary and appropriate measures against large-scale purchases of shares by such individuals.

② Initiatives to Contribute to the Source of the Corporate Value of the Company and the

On the manufacturing front, through the introduction of innovative production lines and the promotion of cost reduction and automation, etc., the Company strives to implement systems to produce quality products even more efficiently.

With respect to new business in the field of non-automobile engines, the Company has been focusing efforts on the development and commercialization of new products, etc. using new materials, centered on the medical equipment and motor fields as the core of new businesses with an eye on the future. In the development of these businesses, the Company will continue to strive to achieve high levels of innovation to add even more value, through collaboration with industry, government, and academia, and proactive collaborative business, including alliances with other companies, using its own technology as the foundation.

The trend of placing greater value on social responsibility in corporate activities has also strengthened in recent years. In addition to working to reduce the environmental impact of its core business, the Company plans to proactively engage in important issues from the perspective of sustainability, such as respecting diversity, human rights, and improving governance, even more actively than it has in the past, together with shareholders, customers, local communities, suppliers, and employees.

- (e) Resolutions by the Board of Directors, and general meeting of shareholders for confirmation of shareholders' intentions

The Board of Directors shall comply with the aforementioned recommendations of the Independent Committee and, as a body under the Companies Act, pass a resolution concerning the invoking or non-invoking of countermeasures against the large-scale purchase action, etc.

However, when invoking countermeasures, in addition to Independent Committee consultation procedures, the Board of Directors may, after first determining the details of specific countermeasures, convene a general meeting of shareholders to confirm the intent of the Company's shareholders regarding the invocation of countermeasures ("General Meeting of Shareholders for Confirmation of Intent") (i) if the Board of Directors determines that it is in practice possible to confirm the intent of the Company's shareholders – taking into consideration whether a substantive judgment based on the details of the large-scale purchase action, etc. from the perspective of ensuring and enhancing corporate value and the common interests of shareholders is necessary and various circumstances such as other details of the large-scale purchase action, etc. and the time available – and that it is appropriate in light of laws, regulations, and the Directors' duty of care of a prudent manager, etc. or (ii) if the Independent Committee makes a recommendation with a reservation that the intent of the Company's shareholders should be confirmed with respect to the large-scale purchase action, etc.

- (ii) Countermeasures if the large-scale purchase, etc. takes place

- (a) Conditions for invoking countermeasures

- (A) When a large-scale purchaser does not comply with the Large-Scale Purchase Rules

In the event that a large-scale purchaser does not comply with the Large-scale Purchase Rules stipulated in the Plan, and it is not corrected within five business days after the Board of Directors requests such correction in writing, in cases other than where it is obvious that there is a necessity not to invoke countermeasures for the sake of ensuring and enhancing the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our shareholders or other special circumstances, the Independent Committee shall, in principle, recommend that the Board of Directors invoke countermeasures.

The Board of Directors shall decide to invoke the countermeasures in accordance with the recommendations of the Independent Committee. However, in the event that a General Meeting of Shareholders for Confirmation of Intent is held in addition to the recommendations of the Independent Committee, the Board of Directors shall decide to invoke countermeasures pursuant to the judgment of shareholders at the General Meeting of Shareholders for Confirmation of Intent.

- (B) When a large-scale purchaser complies with the Large-Scale Purchase Rules

In the event that the large-scale purchaser complies with the Large-Scale Purchasing Rules, the Independent Committee shall, in principle, recommend that the Board of Directors does not invoke countermeasures against the large-scale purchase action, etc. However, even if the Large-Scale Purchase Rules are complied with, if the Independent Committee determines that the Company's corporate value and the common interests of our shareholders will be significantly harmed, the Independent Committee will recommend that the Board of Directors invoke countermeasures against the large-scale purchase action, etc.

(b) Details of countermeasures

Countermeasures against the large-scale purchase action, etc. by the Company in accordance with the Plan shall be based on the gratis allotment of share options prescribed in Article 277 and following articles of the Companies Act.

(iii) Effective term, abolition, and amendment of the Plan

The effective term of the Plan shall be until the conclusion of the annual general meeting of shareholders scheduled to be held in June 2023. However, even prior to the expiration of the effective term of the Plan, the Company shall review the Plan from time to time from the perspective of ensuring and enhancing the corporate value of the Company and the common interest of our shareholders, and the Plan shall be abolished or amended by resolution of the general meeting of shareholders or the Board of Directors.

④ The fact that the Plan is in accordance with basic policies does not harm the common interests of the Company's shareholders, and is not for the purpose of maintaining the position of the Company's officers, and the reasons therefor

I. Consistency with guidelines and timely disclosure rules for anti-takeover measures

The Plan is in accordance with details of the "Guidelines Regarding Takeover Defenses for the Purposes of Protection and Enhancement of Corporate Value and Shareholders' Common Interests" jointly released by the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry and the Ministry of Justice on May 27, 2005 and takes into full consideration the "Takeover Defense Measures in Light of Recent Environmental Changes" released on June 30, 2008 by the Corporate Value Study Group of the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry. In addition, the Plan also fulfils the intent of the various regulations pertaining to the introduction of anti-takeover measures prescribed by Tokyo Stock Exchange, Inc.

II. Introduction for the purpose of ensuring and enhancement of the common interests of shareholders

Introduction of the Plan is for the purpose of ensuring and enhancement of corporate value and common interests of shareholders by securing the necessary information and time required for shareholders to judge whether the large-scale purchase action, etc. is appropriate, and enabling negotiations to be conducted for the benefit of shareholders when such large-scale purchase action, etc. is carried out against the Company.

III. Sufficient respect for shareholders' Intentions (sunset provision)

The Plan was introduced upon being approved at the annual general meeting of shareholders held on June 26, 2020. In addition, in the event that the Board of Directors judges it to be appropriate in light of laws, regulations, or the duty of care of a prudent manager of the Company's Directors, or the Independent Committee makes a recommendation with a reservation that the intentions of shareholders should be confirmed, it shall be possible to confirm the intentions of shareholders with regard to the invoking or non-invoking of countermeasures at the general meeting of shareholders.

IV. Eliminating arbitrariness of the Board of Directors

The Company has established the Independent Committee as a unit independent from the Board of Directors to appropriately carry out this countermeasure, prevent arbitrary judgments by the Board of Directors, and to ensure the rationality and fairness of the judgments. In the event that a large-scale purchase action, etc. is carried out against the Company, the Independent Committee shall make a substantive judgment as to whether the large-scale purchase action, etc. will damage the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our shareholders, and the Board of Directors shall pass a resolution in accordance with this judgment as a body under the Companies Act, thus ensuring a mechanism for the transparent operation of the Plan in order to maintain the corporate value of the Company and the common interests of our stockholders.

V. Setting objective and reasonable requirements

The Plan is designed in such a way that countermeasures will not be invoked unless the Independent Committee deems that reasonable and detailed objective requirements have been satisfied.

VI. No dead-hand or slow-hand anti-takeover measure

The Plan is designed in such a way that it may be abolished even prior to the expiration of its effective term by a decision of the Board of Directors, which comprises Directors appointed at the general meeting of shareholders, and the Company believes that the Plan is of a completely different nature to the rights plans known as the dead-hand anti-takeover measure and the slow-hand anti-takeover measure that make it impossible or difficult for the management team to abolish a plan.

VII. Acquiring the opinions of third-party experts

The Plan enables the Independent Committee to receive advice from independent third-parties (financial advisors, certified public accountants, attorneys-at-law, consultants, and other experts) at the Company's expense. This mechanism more securely guarantees the fairness and objectivity of judgments by the Independent Committee.

- b. Derivatives Fair value method.
- c. Inventory Mainly cost method using the moving average method (by means of a write-down of book value due to reduction in profitability)

② Depreciation methods for significant depreciable assets

- a. Property, plant, and equipment
  - Property, plant, and equipment other than lease assets The straight-line method is mainly used for machinery and transport equipment, with the declining balance method mainly used for everything else. However, the straight-line method is mainly used for buildings acquired on or after April 1, 1998 (excluding facilities and equipment ancillary to buildings) and facilities and equipment ancillary to buildings and structures acquired on or after April 1, 2016.
  - Lease assets Lease assets under finance lease transactions with a transfer of ownership The same depreciation method is applied to fixed assets owned by the Company. Lease assets under finance transactions without transfer of ownership The lease term is used as the useful life, and the straight-line method is used with the residual value set as zero.
- b. Intangible fixed assets
  - Intangible fixed assets other than lease assets
    - Software for internal use The straight-line method based on the internal usable period (five (5) years).
    - Other intangible fixed assets Straight-line method.
  - Lease assets Lease assets under finance transactions without transfer of ownership The lease term is used as the useful life, and the straight-line method is used with the residual value set as zero.

③ Standards for recording significant allowances

- Allowance for doubtful accounts The historical bad debt rate is used to provide for loss due to bad debt for general accounts receivable, and for certain debts, such as doubtful accounts receivable, the recoverability is examined individually and the estimated unrecoverable amount is recorded.

④ Standard for conversion of significant foreign currency-denominated assets or liabilities into Japanese Yen

Foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities are converted into Japanese Yen at the foreign exchange spot rate on the last day of the consolidated fiscal year and foreign currency translation differences are accounted for as loss or profit. The assets and liabilities of foreign subsidiaries are converted into Japanese Yen at the foreign exchange spot rate on the last day of the consolidated fiscal year, revenue and expenses are converted to Japanese Yen at the average rate for the period, and translation differences are recorded by inclusion in “Foreign currency translation adjustment” and “Non-controlling interests” under net assets.

⑤ Significant hedge accounting methods

- a. Hedge accounting methods
Deferred hedge accounting is used.
Interest rate swaps that satisfy the requirements for special treatment are by special treatment, and forward exchange contracts that satisfy the requirements for allocation treatment are by allocation treatment.
- b. Hedging instruments and hedged items
Hedging instruments: forward exchange contract transactions, interest rate swap transactions.
Hedged items: foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities, loans payable
- c. Method for evaluating the effectiveness of hedging policies and hedges
In order to hedge against risks from market rate fluctuations, risk management pursuant to internal rules is implemented for assets or liabilities based on actual demand and the effectiveness is evaluated.

⑥ Other significant matters for the preparation of consolidated financial statements

- a. Accounting method for retirement benefits
When calculating retirement benefit liabilities, the method of attributing the estimated amount of retirement benefits to the period until the end of the consolidated fiscal year is based on the benefit calculation formula.
Actuarial differences are accounted for as expenses from the following consolidated fiscal year after they respectively arise, using the straight-line method based on the average remaining service period of employees when it arises.
Unrecognized actuarial differences are recorded as accumulated remeasurement of defined benefits plan under accumulated other comprehensive income in the net assets section after adjusting the tax effect.
- b. Goodwill amortization method and amortization period
Goodwill is amortized over a period of 7 years using the straight-line method
- c. Standards for recording revenue and expenses

In its automobile product business, the Group manufactures automobile engine parts including piston rings and valve seat inserts at manufacturing bases in Japan and overseas, and sells them to automobile manufacturers, etc. For the replacement parts market, the Group also sells to business operators, etc., handling automobile parts. In the marine engine products and other products businesses, the Group sells piston rings for ships and products applying a metal injection molding (METAMETAL) process, etc. to ship manufacturers and industrial equipment manufacturers, etc. respectively. In the other products business, the Group sells automobile bearing parts and RV products, etc. to automobile manufacturers and retailers, etc.
Revenue generated from contracts with customers is recognized at the time that control of the product transfers to the customer. In domestic sales, revenue is mainly recognized at the time of shipping because the time from shipping until control of the product transfers to the customer is a normal period of time (shipping basis applied). With respect to domestic sales where shipping basis is not applied, revenue is recognized when the product is delivered to the customer. With respect to export transactions, revenue is recognized at the time of delivery to the customer set forth in the International Commercial Terms.

Transaction consideration is received within one (1) year of satisfaction of the performance obligations, and does not include significant finance components.

2. Notes Regarding Changes to Accounting Policies

(Changes to Accounting Policies in Conjunction with Revisions to Accounting Standards, etc.)

(Application of ASC 842 Lease Accounting)

Foreign subsidiaries that applies the US accounting standards have applied ASC 842 Lease Accounting since the beginning of the current consolidated fiscal year. Under this standard, parties taking out leases are in principle required to recognize all leases as assets and liabilities on their balance sheets.

When applying this accounting standard, we have adopted a method of recognizing on the application commencement date the cumulative effects of the application of accounting standards permitted as transitional measures.

Consequently, at the end of the current consolidated fiscal year “Intangible fixed assets” increased by ¥263 million, “Lease liabilities” under current liabilities increased by ¥75 million, and “Lease liabilities” under fixed liabilities increased by ¥186 million. Please note that the impact on loss or profit for the current consolidated fiscal year is minor. The impact on loss and profit for the current consolidated fiscal year is minor.

(Changes to Method of Attribution to Service Period for Retirement Benefits)

In April 2022, the method of recognizing retirement benefits liabilities was clarified by the press release “Attributing Benefit to Periods of Service” by the Indonesian Financial Accounting Standards Board (Dewan Standar Akuntansi Keuangan or DSAK) of the Institute of Indonesia Chartered Accountants (Ikatan Akuntan Indonesia or IAI) based on the Agenda Decision of the IFRS Interpretations Committee (IFRIC) Attributing Benefit to Periods of Service (IAS 19 Employee Benefits). In conjunction with this, in the past, retirement benefits were recognized by corresponding to employees’ period of service, but from the current consolidated fiscal year, some foreign subsidiaries apply a method whereby they are recognized by corresponding to the period when the liability burden is incurred.

As a result of recognizing the cumulative effect of the commencement of application of this change as a revision of the balance of retained earnings and the like at the beginning of the period, the balance of “retained earnings” at the beginning of the current consolidated fiscal year increased by ¥136 million, “foreign currency translation adjustment” increased by ¥8 million, and the “cumulative adjustment for retirement benefits” reduced by ¥52 million. The impact on loss and profit for the current consolidated fiscal year is minor.

3. Additional Information

(Notes Regarding Transactions Delivering the Company’s Shares to Employees, etc. through a Trust)

At the Board of Directors’ meeting held on September 24, 2020, the Company passed a resolution to introduce a trust-type employee shareholding incentive plan with the aim of incentivizing employees to improve the Company’s medium- and long-term corporate value.

① Outline of transaction

Under the plan, a trust exclusively for the Nippon Piston Ring Employee Shareholding Association is established at a trust bank (“Employee Shareholding Trust”) and will acquire in advance the number of shares of the Company expects to be acquired by the shareholding association over a five-year period. Subsequently, the Employee Shareholding Trust continuously sells the Company’s shares to the shareholding association, and if an amount equivalent to the profit on the sale of shares has accumulated in the Employee Shareholding Trust when the trust terminates, that amount equivalent to the profit on the sale of shares will be distributed as residual assets to those who satisfy the beneficiary qualification conditions.

Because the Company is a guarantor for loans payable for the purpose of the Employee Shareholding Trust acquiring the Company's shares, if the Company's share price drops, causing an amount equivalent to loss on the sale of shares to accumulate within the Employee Shareholding Trust and there are outstanding loans payable equivalent to the loss on the sale of such shares within the Employee Shareholding Trust when the trust terminates, the Company shall repay such outstanding liabilities.

② Accounting treatment

With respect to the accounting treatment, "Practical Solution on Transactions of Delivering the Company's Own Stock to Employees etc. through Trusts" (Practical Issues Task Force No. 30, March 26, 2015) is applied and accounting treatment is carried out in accordance with such guidelines.

③ Shares of the Company held by the trust

The shares of the Company held by the Employee Shareholding Trust are recorded as treasury shares in the net assets section based on the book value in the Employee Shareholding Trust (excluding the amount of ancillary expenses). At the end of the current consolidated fiscal year, there were 225,700 such treasury shares with a book value of ¥216 million.

④ Book value of loans payable recorded due to the application of the gross method

¥164 million at the end of the current consolidated fiscal year.

① Calculation method

With respect to the taxable temporary difference after taking into consideration the reversal schedule for taxable temporary difference, we estimate future taxable income and then determine the recoverability of deferred tax assets. The estimate of taxable income is based on the business plan for the following fiscal year approved by the Board of Directors, and its feasibility is reasonably determined.

7. Notes Regarding Financial Instruments

(1) Financial instruments

The Group raises necessary funds (mainly from bank loans) based on a capital investment plan in order to carry out its business manufacturing and selling various products, including automobile products.

Customer credit risk pertaining to notes and accounts receivable-trade is managed for each business counterparty in accordance with the Group's Credit Management Rules and the credit risk for key business counterparties is continuously monitored and risk reduction implemented.

Additionally, although accounts receivable-trade denominated in foreign currencies are exposed to foreign exchange risk, derivatives transactions (foreign exchange forward transactions) are utilized as a hedge in order to mitigate foreign exchange risk and fix the amount recovered for some of these.

Shares, which are investment securities, are exposed to market price fluctuation risks, but the fair value is assessed quarterly.

Loans payable are used for operating funds (mainly short-term) and capital investment funds (mainly long-term, within five (5) years) and are exposed to interest rate fluctuation risks in the case of loans payable with variable interest rates, but for some long-term loans payable, derivatives transactions (interest rate swap transactions) are used for individual agreements in order to mitigate the risks of fluctuations in interest payable and fix the amount of interest payable.

The implementation and management of derivatives transactions are carried out in accordance with the internal rules set forth by our bank of account, and when utilizing derivatives, in order to reduce credit risk, we only carry out transactions with major financial institutions. Please note that our policy is to utilize derivatives to mitigate the above foreign exchange risks and interest rate fluctuation risks, and not as speculative transactions.

(3) Breakdown, etc. of fair value level of financial instruments

The fair value of financial instruments is divided into three levels depending on the observability and importance of inputs for the calculation of fair value.

Level 1 fair value: Inputs for calculation of an observable fair value where the fair value calculated using the market price of assets or liabilities whose fair value is being calculated is formed in an active market

Level 2 fair value: Inputs for calculation of an observable fair value where the fair value is calculated using inputs for calculation of fair value other than those for level 1

Level 3 fair value: Fair value calculated using inputs for the calculation of fair value that are unobservable

In cases where multiple inputs which have a material effect on the calculation of the fair value are used, among the levels to which the respective inputs belong, the fair value is categorized at the level with the lowest priority in the fair value calculation.

(Note) Explanation of valuation techniques and inputs used to calculate the fair value

Investment securities

Listed shares are valued using the market price. Because listed shares are traded on active markets, their fair value is categorized as a level 1 fair value. On the other hand, other securities held by the Company are not traded on the market and a market price on an active market cannot be determined, so therefore they are noted as shares without a market price.

Notes, accounts receivable-trade and contract assets

The fair value of notes and accounts receivable-trade is calculated using the discounted cash flow method based on interest rates considering the claim amount, the period until maturity, and the credit risk for each claim divided into set periods, and this is categorized as a level 2 fair value.

Notes and accounts payable-trade, electronically recorded claims, and short-term loans payable

The fair value of notes and accounts payable-trade, electronically recorded claims and short-term loans payable is calculated using the discounted cash flow method based on interest rates considering the future cash flow, the period until the payment due date, and the credit risk for each obligation divided into set periods, and this is categorized as a level 2 fair value.

Long-term loans payable

The fair value of long-term loans payable with variable interest rates is their book value because the fair value is regarded as approximating book value since it reflects market interest rates over the short-term and the credit standing of the Company has not changed significantly after drawdown. The fair value of long-term loans payable with fixed interest rates is calculated by discounting the total amount of principal and interest by the interest rate if a similar loan were newly taken out, and these are categorized as a level 2 fair value.

Contract liabilities for sales contracts in export transactions mainly for the replacement parts market are with respect to advances received from customers pursuant to the payment terms. Contract liabilities are reversed when revenue is recognized.

Of revenue recognized for the current consolidated fiscal year, ¥80 million was included in the balance of contract liabilities as of the beginning of the period. The main reason for the ¥7 million increase in contract liabilities in the current consolidated fiscal year was an increase in advances received pertaining to export transactions at foreign subsidiaries.

The amount of revenue recognized in the current consolidated fiscal year from performance obligations fulfilled (or partially fulfilled) in past periods is not significant.

b. Transaction price allotted to outstanding performance obligations

As there are no significant transactions for which the expected contract term of an individual agreement exceeds one year in the Group, practical shortcuts are applied and information on outstanding performance obligations has been omitted. Additionally, there are no significant amounts in consideration generated from contracts with customers that has not been included in transaction prices.
