Reasons for nomination as candidate for Outside Director and summary of expected role

Ms. Chika Igarashi is an attorney, and the Company proposes her re-election as an Outside Director so that her knowledge and experience may be reflected in the Company's management and she may fulfill a supervisory function from this perspective.

Ms. Igarashi has never been directly involved with a company's management other than being an outside executive. However, she has been engaged in corporate legal affairs in Japan and overseas as an attorney for many years, and she has a high degree of legal expertise and international perspective in corporate legal affairs. As a result, the Company believes that Ms. Igarashi can perform the duties of an Outside Director properly.

Ms. Igarashi is a partner at Nishimura & Asahi (Gaikokuho Kyodo Jigyo). The Company has a business relationship with Nishimura & Asahi (Gaikokuho Kyodo Jigyo) concerning legal services. However, the Company and said law office have not entered into an advisory agreement.

The average amount of legal fees paid to Nishimura & Asahi (Gaikokuho Kyodo Jigyo) including Nishimura & Asahi LPC with which said law office conducts joint legal operations, and so on below amounted to less than 1% of the Company's net sales and less than 2% of said law office's total revenue. Therefore, there is no risk of a conflict of interest with general shareholders and Ms. Igarashi's independence is unaffected.

BUSINESS REPORT (from April 1, 2023 to March 31, 2024)

1. Matters related to the KOITO Group

1) Performance and results of business activities

The economic situation in fiscal 2024 showed a gradual recovery as economic activity began to normalize following the recovery from the COVID-19, but the outlook remained uncertain due to monetary tightening in response to anti-inflation measures in many countries, the stalling of the Chinese economy, as well as heightened geopolitical risks in Ukraine, the Middle East and elsewhere.

As for the global automobile production volume, although sluggish sales of Japanese vehicles in China due to the progress of EVs, the suspension of production and shipments due to the fraud problems of automobile manufacturers in Japan as well as the UAW strike in North America, it increased in all regions compared to the previous year due to the easing of semi-conductor shortages and other factors.

Under these circumstances, the consolidated net sales reached ¥ 950.2 billion (increased by 9.9% year-on-year), a record high for the second consecutive year, due to a recovery in vehicle production, new orders mainly in Japan and North America, and the effect of currency translation, despite sales in China decreased due to lower production of Japanese vehicles.

Results by geographical segment are outlined as follows:

| Japan                            | Despite there was the impact of the suspension of production and shipments caused by fraud problems at automobile manufacturers in the second half of the period, the net sales increased by 12.7% year-on-year to ¥361.7 billion dues to an increase in automobile production as a result of an easing of the semiconductor shortage and a recovery in exports due to the weaken yen. | Composition of sales 38.1% |
|----------------------------------|--|----------------------------|
| NorthAmerica                 | Despite the impact of the UAW strike and cold wave, the net sales increased by 14.5% year-on-year to ¥286.5 billion dues to a recovery in vehicle production and new orders, as well as the effect of foreign exchange conversion.   | Composition of sales 30.2% |
| China                            | Although vehicle production increased compared to the previous year due to increased sales by local automakers as a result of the shift to EVs, the net sales decreased by 11.5% year-on-year to \(\frac{1}{2}\)82.3 billion as a result of continued sluggish sales of Japanese vehicles.   | Composition of sales 8.7%  |
| Asia                             | Despite there were production cuts in Thailand and Indonesia due to sluggish sales following rising interest rates and other factor, the net sales increased by 5.3% year-on-year to ¥153.3 billion due to factors such as an increase in overall vehicle production and the effect of foreign exchange conversion, as demand increased in India in line with economic growth.         | Composition of sales 16.1% |
| Europe                           | The net sales increased by 19.8% year-on-year to ¥49.8 billion, mainly due to a recovery in vehicle production and the effect of foreign exchange conversion.  | Composition of sales 5.2%  |
| Otherregions(NAL Brasil) | The net sales increased by $26.5\%$ year-on-year to $$$ $16.4$ billion, due to a recovery in vehicle production, new orders and the effect of foreign exchange conversion.  | Composition of sales 1.7%  |

Regarding profits, although we saw impacts of production and shipping stoppages caused by our clients, inflation in various countries and soaring labor costs caused by the tighten employment situations mainly in North America, the operating income increased by 19.5% to ¥55.9 billion, recurring profit increased by 30.4% to ¥63.2 billion and net income attributable to owners of the parent increased by 37.8% to ¥40.8 billion, due to the effect of increased sales in Japan, North America and elsewhere, as well as the promotion of rationalization activities, including group-wide productivity improvements.

2) Capital expenditures

Capital expenditures totaled ¥42.5 billion. Outlays were centered on the automotive lighting equipment segment, primarily for equipment, molds, and structures for adapting to new products and model changes, and investments for carbon neutrality in Japan and overseas.

3) Financing

The Company used internal funds and loans for the funds required for substantial investments in overseas business and other activities.

4) Key issues

The KOITO Group's key issues are to respond flexibly to rapid changes in the management environment, such as the advance of electrification and autonomous driving for next-generation mobility, to increase our corporate value, and to contribute to the realization of a sustainable society. To meet these challenges, we have formulated the KOITO VISION, "Lighting the Way for Our Sustainable Future," under which we are working towards "Enforcement of Corporate Foundation," "Sustainable Growth," and "Coexistence with the Earth and Society."

For "Enforcement of Corporate Foundation," we aim to nurture the human resources that will drive the Group's development and strengthen and transform manufacturing and personnel development. Furthermore, by strengthening product safety and quality assurance, legal compliance, and internal controls and information security, we are working to enhance our corporate governance to gain the trust of all stakeholders.

For "Sustainable Growth," not only will we endeavor to popularize our Adaptive Driving Beam (ADB) headlamps, which contribute to reducing traffic accidents, we will also waste no time in bringing to market LiDAR, communication lamps, and other attractive products with a view to an autonomous driving society, so as to deliver safety and peace of mind to people around the world, thereby earning customer satisfaction and trust.

For "Coexistence with the Earth and Society," we are stepping up activities aimed at reducing our CO<sub>2</sub> emissions 50% (compared to fiscal 2013) by fiscal 2030 and achieving carbon neutrality by fiscal 2050. At the same time, we are promoting eco- and people-friendly manufacturing, mainly by reducing the use of substances that are harmful to the environment. Moreover, we will aim to become a company where each and every employee can work to their full potential.

Under these circumstances, as the first step toward achieving KOITO VISION, in March 2024 we have formulated the 1st Medium-Term Management Plan for the three-year period from FY2025 to FY2027. Below is an overview of the Medium-Term Management Plan.

It was approved at the 119th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 27, 2019 that the amount of remuneration, etc. for the Company's Directors shall be no more than ¥1.5 billion a year. In addition, it was approved at the 115th Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders held on June 26, 2015, that, apart from the amount of remuneration, etc., for Directors described above, the amount of remuneration, etc., related to subscription rights as stock compensation-type stock options for Directors shall be no more than ¥200 million a year.

The Directors' remuneration system consists of fixed remuneration, paid monthly, and performance-linked remuneration. Based on the Company's internal standards on Director's remuneration, the Company comprehensively determines the amount of remuneration by taking several factors into account: corporate performance, the amount of dividends to shareholders, remuneration amount of other companies, the amount of employees' salaries, as well as the Director's management capabilities, achievements, and their contributions.

The fixed remuneration amount is calculated by setting a basic amount in based on the size of the role of each Director and their position, then setting the upper and lower limit amount for each position, the status difference by position, and the difference by the number of years in the position.

Performance-linked remuneration is evaluated and decided based on the belief that it is important to comprehensively consider the goals and achievements of each fiscal year's performance (net sales, profits, etc.) and each Director's contribution.

The goal of stock compensation-type stock options is to motivate company managers to contribute to improving business performance and corporate value in the medium to long term by sharing the benefit of rising stock prices and the risk of falling stock prices with shareholders. The number of stock options granted is based on each Director's status of business execution and level of contribution, etc., and Directors are able to exercises their options once they have lost their position as Director.

The Board of Directors consults the Remuneration Committee regarding the policy for determining remuneration, etc. and the policy, etc. for determining the remuneration for individual Directors.

(4) Accounting policy

- i. Valuation basis and methods for significant assets
  - a. Securities being held for trading: Market value method (Sales cost of securities is principally determined by the moving-average method)
  - b. Bonds being held to maturity: Cost amortization method (straight-line method)
  - c. Other securities:

Securities other than shares without market value, etc.

Market value method based on market price as of the closing date (Unrealized gains and losses are reported in net asset section. Sales cost of securities is principally determined by the moving-average method.)

Shares without market value, etc.

Cost method based on the moving-average method

For investments in investment limited partnerships, an amount corresponding to the equity in the partnership assets is recognized as "marketable securities" under investments and other assets, and an amount corresponding to the share of profit or loss of the investment limited partnership is recognized as profit or loss.

- d. Derivatives: Market value method
- e. Money trusts for investments: Market value method
- f. Inventories:

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in Japan state inventories principally at cost as determined by the weighted average method (book values of inventories are lowered in accordance with declines in profitability). Foreign consolidated subsidiaries state inventories at the lower of cost or market as determined by the moving-average method.

- ii. Depreciation and amortization method for principal assets
- a. Property, plant and equipment (excluding leased assets):

The Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in Japan compute depreciation with the declining-balance method and foreign consolidated subsidiaries use the straight-line method.

However, consolidated subsidiaries in Japan use the straight-line method for buildings (excluding attached facilities) that were acquired on or after April 1, 1998, and facilities attached to buildings and structures that were acquired on or after April 1, 2016.

b. Intangible fixed assets (excluding leased assets):

 Leased assets: Leased assets under finance lease transactions that do not transfer ownership

Leased assets are depreciated with the straight-line method with the lease term regarded as the useful life and a residual value of zero.

- iii. Significant allowances
- a. Allowance for doubtful accounts:

The allowance for doubtful accounts for the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in Japan is calculated by using the actual loss ratio for ordinary receivables and recording an estimate of the amount that cannot be recovered for specific doubtful receivables after determining the likelihood of collection. Foreign consolidated subsidiaries primarily record estimated amounts that cannot be recovered for specific receivables.

b. Allowance for employees' bonuses:

The allowance for employees' bonuses for the Company and some of its consolidated subsidiaries is the estimated amount of bonuses to be paid to employees based on their services provided during the fiscal year.

c. Reserve for product warranties:

Reserve for product warranties for the Company and some of its consolidated subsidiaries is the estimated amount of expenses associated with product warranties in accordance with the designated standards.

d. Allowance for directors' and corporate auditors' retirement benefits: Some consolidated subsidiaries in Japan recorded the amount of required payments at the end of the fiscal year in accordance with the benefit rules, to cover the payment of executive retirement bonuses paid at the time of retirement.

iv. Recognition of significant revenues and expenses

The following is a summary of the principal performance obligations of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries' principal businesses relating to revenue from contracts with customers and the usual time at which such performance obligations are satisfied (the usual time at which revenue is recognized).

- Automotive lighting equipment segment

This segment's main business is manufacturing and marketing of automotive lighting equipment. For the sale of products, revenue is recognized when the products are delivered to the customer or inspected by the customer.

Revenue is measured at the consideration promised in the contract with the customer, less returns, discounts, etc.

The consideration for transactions is received within one year of satisfaction of the performance obligation and does not include significant financial elements.

v. Standard for conversions into yen of major assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies

Foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities are converted into yen using the spot exchange rate at the end of the fiscal year and any differences are recorded as gains or losses. At foreign consolidated subsidiaries, assets and liabilities are converted into yen using the spot exchange rate at the end of the fiscal year and income and expenses are converted into yen using the average fiscal year exchange rate. Differences are included in foreign currency translation adjustments and non-controlling interests, which are part of net assets.

- vi. Principal methods of hedge accounting
- a. Methods of hedge accounting:

In principle, the deferral hedge accounting is applied. Exceptional accounting method is applied to interest rate swaps that meet the requirements.

b. Hedging instruments and hedged items:

Items to be hedged are exchange rate fluctuation risks in transactions denominated in foreign currencies and interest rate fluctuation risks in loans The Company adopts foreign exchange contracts to hedge exchange rate fluctuation risks and interest rate swap agreements to hedge interest rate fluctuation risks.

c. Hedging policy:

The Company carries out hedging to avoid risks from foreign exchange and interest rate fluctuations pertaining to the hedged items. The Company in principle refrains from using hedges for the purpose of speculative transactions.

d. Hedge effectiveness evaluation methods:

In individual hedging transactions, the Company judges the hedging efficiency by directly weighing changes in market prices or cash flows of the hedged items and hedging instruments, based on internal regulations about management policy at and after the start of hedges.

vii. Amortization method and amortization period for goodwill:

Goodwill is amortized over five years on a straight-line method.

However, if the goodwill amount is minimal, it is treated as profit or loss in the fiscal year of occurrence.

viii. Other important basis of preparation for consolidated financial statements

Accounting method associated with retirement benefits:

To prepare for net defined assets and liability for retirement benefits to employees, provision has been made based on an estimate of the projected retirement benefit liability at the end of the fiscal year under review minus the fair value of the pension fund assets. When calculating retirement benefit obligation, the benefit formula basis is used to allocate estimated retirement benefits to the period up to this fiscal year-end. Actuarial gains and losses are amortized by the straight-line method over a certain period (mainly five years), which is within the average remaining service period of employees at the time of recognition, starting from the fiscal year following the respective fiscal year of recognition. In calculating retirement benefits, part of consolidated subsidiaries uses the simplified method of assuming their benefit obligations to be equal to the benefits payable that would be required if all employees retired at fiscal year-end.

2. Notes concerning accounting estimates

The items recorded in the Consolidated Financial Statements for the fiscal year under review based on accounting estimates and that may have a significant impact on the Consolidated Financial Statements for the next fiscal year are as follows.

(Expenses for a product recall and other market treatment related to specific vehicle models) There are expenses for a product recall and other market treatment related to specific vehicle models (¥7,401 million) included in accrued expenses. In estimating these liabilities, the Company records such expenses based on assumptions about likelihood of occurrence, cost burden ratio, and other factors, and actual incurrence may differ from the estimates.

(Convertible non-voting preference shares with no voting rights)

There are ¥15,697 million of convertible non-voting preference shares which are convertible to common shares and have no voting rights, included in marketable securities. As classified shares with no market price, these preference shares are tested for impairment, with their substantial value determined by an option pricing model. In addition, observable information of companies similar to the issuer of the preference shares is used in the determination of information used in the calculation of the substantial value. If any change in the market or unforeseeable change in preconditions affects the calculation of the substantial value and the substantial value significantly declines compared with the cost in the future, recording of an impairment loss may be required.

5. Notes to financial instruments

(1) Financial instruments

The KOITO Group places emphasis on safe investments of funds, prioritizing the preservation of principal. The Group has a policy of raising necessary funds by internal funds and bank loans. Trade receivables—trade notes, electronically recorded monetary claims-operating, and accounts receivable—are exposed to credit risks in relation to customers. The Group lowers those risks by performing maturity date management and balance management for each business partner. Investment securities face risks of market price fluctuations, but they are mainly shares related to companies in business alliances and debt securities purchased with surplus funds, and the Group regularly monitors market prices of those securities.

Trade payables—trade notes and accounts payable, electronically recorded monetary obligations-operating, accrued expenses, and income taxes payable—have payment terms within one year. Among loans payable, short-term loans primarily represent fund raising related to operating transactions, and long-term debt mainly concern fund raising related to capital expenditure. Trade payables and loans payable are exposed to liquidity risks. The Group manages those risks by making cash management plans. The Group utilizes derivative transactions for the purpose of reducing risks of foreign exchange and interest rate fluctuations and refrains from speculative transactions.

(2) Fair value of financial instruments

The following table shows amounts recognized on the consolidated balance sheets, fair values, and the differences between them on March 31, 2024.

Also, notes for "Time deposits," "Trade notes," "Electronically recorded monetary claims-operating," "Accounts receivable," "Trade notes and accounts payable," "Electronically recorded monetary obligations-operating," "Short-term loans," "Accrued expenses," and "Income taxes payable," are omitted as they are settled in short terms and therefore their fair values are roughly equal to their book values.
- (*2) Allowance for doubtful accounts on claims provable in bankruptcy, claims provable in rehabilitation and other has been deducted.

Note:

Explanation of valuation techniques and inputs used to determine fair value

The fair values of financial instruments are classified into the following three levels according to the observability and importance of inputs used to determine fair value.

Level 1 Fair Value: Fair value calculated using quoted prices (unadjusted) for identical assets or liabilities in active markets.

Level 2 Fair Value: Fair value calculated using observable inputs other than Level 1 inputs to the calculation of fair value, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3 Fair Value: Fair value calculated using significant unobservable inputs related to the calculation of fair value.

When multiple inputs that have a significant impact on the calculation of fair value are used, fair value is classified to the level with the lowest priority in the calculation of fair value among the levels to which each of those inputs belongs.

Marketable securities

Listed stocks are valued using quoted market prices. Because listed stocks are traded in active markets, their fair values are classified as Level 1 fair value. Debt securities are valued using reference prices published by the Japan Securities Dealers Association or quoted market prices provided by financial institutions, or using the discounted present value method based on their future cashflows, government bond yields, etc., and are classified as Level 2 fair value. Investment trusts are valued using net asset values provided by financial institutions and are classified as Level 2 fair value. Unlisted stocks with no market value (consolidated balance sheet amount: ¥18,516 million) and investments in investment partnerships (¥4,308 million) are not included. Furthermore, for investment in limited partnerships, etc., the measures provided for in Implementation Guidance on Accounting Standard for Fair Value Measurement, paragraph 24-16 are applied and no notes are provided concerning matters set forth in Implementation Guidance on Disclosures about Fair Value of Financial Instruments, paragraph 4 (1).

Notes to non-consolidated financial statements

1. Significant accounting policies

- (1) Valuation basis and methods for securities
  - i. Shares of subsidiaries and affiliates: Cost method based on the moving-average method
  - ii. Bonds being held to maturity: Cost amortization method (straight-line method)

Shares without market value, etc.

Cost method based on the moving-average method

For investments in investment limited partnerships, an amount corresponding to the equity in the partnership assets is recognized as "marketable securities" under investments and other assets, and an amount corresponding to the share of profit or loss of the investment limited partnership is recognized as profit or loss.

- (2) Valuation basis and methods for derivatives and others
  - i. Derivatives: Market value method
  - ii. Money trusts for investments: Market value method
- (3) Valuation basis and methods for inventories

The Company states inventories principally at cost as determined by the weighted average method (book values of inventories are lowered in accordance with declines in profitability).

- (4) Depreciation and amortization method for non-current assets
  - i. Property, plant and equipment: Declining-balance method

The useful lives of property, plant and equipment are as follows.

Buildings and structures: 7-50 years

Machinery and transportation equipment: 3-7 years

Fixtures, equipment and tools: 2-20 years

ii. Intangible fixed assets

Software: For amortization of software, the straight-line method based on the estimated internal use period (five years) is used.

Other intangible fixed assets: Straight-line method

- (5) Standard for conversions into yen of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies Foreign currency-denominated assets and liabilities are converted into yen using the spot exchange rate at the end of the fiscal year and any differences are recorded as gains or losses.
- (6) Allowances
  - i. Allowance for doubtful receivables

The allowance for doubtful receivables for the Company is calculated by using the actual loss ratio for ordinary receivables and recording an estimate of the amount that cannot be recovered for specific doubtful receivables after determining the likelihood of collection.

ii. Allowance for employees' bonuses

The allowance for employees' bonuses for the Company is the estimated amount of bonuses to be paid to employees based on estimated bonus payments this fiscal year.

iii. Reserve for product warranties

Reserve for product warranties is the estimated amount of expenses associated with product warranties in accordance with the designated standards.

iv. Allowance for retirement benefits

To prepare for allowance for retirement benefits to employees, provision has been made based on an estimate of the projected retirement benefit liability at the end of the fiscal year under review and the estimated value of the pension fund assets.

When calculating retirement benefit obligation, the benefit formula basis is used to allocate estimated retirement benefits to the period up to this fiscal year-end. Actuarial gains and losses are amortized by the straight-line method over a certain period (five years), which is within the average remaining service period of employees at the time of recognition, starting from the fiscal year following the respective fiscal year of recognition.

v. Allowance for losses on overseas investments

To prepare for losses associated with overseas investments, the Company reports an estimated loss amount, considering financial positions of overseas affiliates.

(7) Recognition of significant revenues and expenses

The following is the summary of the principal performance obligations of the Company's principal businesses relating to revenue from contracts with customers and the usual time at which such performance obligations are satisfied (the usual time at which revenue is recognized).

- Automotive lighting equipment segment

This segment's main business is manufacturing and marketing of automotive lighting equipment. For the sale of products, revenue is recognized when the products are delivered to the customer or inspected by the customer. Note that revenue is recognized upon shipment for cases when the period from shipment of the product, etc. to transfer of control of it to the customer is a standard period.

Revenue is measured at the consideration promised in the contract with the customer, less returns, discounts, etc.

The consideration for transactions is received within one year of satisfaction of the performance obligation and does not include significant financial elements.

(8) Method of hedge accounting

In principle, the deferral hedge accounting is applied. Exceptional accounting method is applied to interest rate swaps that meet the requirements.

(9) Other important basis of preparation for financial statements

Accounting standard for retirement benefits

The accounting method for unrecognized items regarding retirement benefits is different from that in the consolidated financial statements.

2. Notes concerning accounting estimates

The items recorded in the Non-consolidated Financial Statements for the fiscal year under review based on accounting estimates and that may have a significant impact on the Non-consolidated Financial Statements for the next fiscal year are as follows.

(Expenses for a product recall and other market treatment related to specific vehicle models) There are expenses for a product recall and other market treatment related to specific vehicle models (¥5,025 million) included in accrued expenses. In estimating these liabilities, the Company records such expenses based on assumptions about likelihood of occurrence, cost burden ratio, and other factors, and actual incurrence may differ from the estimates.

(Convertible non-voting preference shares with no voting rights)

There are ¥15,697 million of convertible non-voting preference shares which are convertible to common shares and have no voting rights, included in marketable securities. As classified shares with no market price, these preference shares are tested for impairment, with their substantial value determined by an option pricing model. In addition, observable information of companies similar to the issuer of the preference shares is used in the determination of information used in the calculation of the substantial value. If any change in the market or unforeseeable change in preconditions affects the calculation of the substantial value and the substantial value significantly declines compared with the cost in the future, recording of an impairment loss may be required.

The subject of our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not include other statements, and we express no opinion on them.

Our responsibility in the audit of the consolidated financial statements is to read the other statements in full and, in the course of reading the other statements, to consider whether there are material differences between the other statements and the consolidated financial statements or knowledge we acquired in the course of the audit, and to pay attention to whether there is any indication of material errors in the other statements other than such material differences.

Responsibilities of Management, Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan; this includes the maintenance and operation of internal control deemed necessary by management for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing whether it is appropriate to prepare the consolidated financial statements with the assumption of a going concern, and in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, for disclosing, as necessary, matters related to going concern. Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board are responsible for overseeing the Directors' performance of duties within the maintenance and operation of the financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements
Our responsibilities are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that expresses our opinion on the consolidated

they could reasonably be expected to influence the decisions of users of these consolidated

- When auditing the consolidated financial statements, obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances in making risk assessments, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used by management and their method of application, as well as the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management and related notes thereto.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of preparing the consolidated financial statements with the assumption of a going concern by management, and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the notes to the consolidated financial statements or, if the notes to the consolidated financial statements on material uncertainty are inadequate, to express a qualified opinion with exceptions on the consolidated financial statements. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate whether the presentation of the consolidated financial statements and notes to the consolidated financial statements are in accordance with accounting standards generally accepted in Japan, as well as evaluate the presentation, structure, and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the related notes thereto, and whether the consolidated financial statements fairly present the underlying transactions and accounting events.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the consolidated financial statements. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We report to the Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit process, and other matters required by auditing standards. We also provide the Audit & Supervisory Board Members and the Audit & Supervisory Board with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements in Japan regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be deemed to bear on our independence, and where applicable, countermeasures have been established to eliminate obstruction factors to our independence or safeguards have been applied to reduce these obstruction factors to allowable levels.
