I. Basic policy on corporate governance and capital structure, business attributes and other basic information

We are convinced that light holds unlimited possibilities.

Known as photonics, light technology is fundamental to most markets with even further advancements underway. However, the nature of light is still yet to be fully revealed.

[Reasons for non-compliance with the principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

The Company complies with all the principles of the Corporate Governance Code.

[Disclosures required by the principles of the Corporate Governance Code]

[Principle 1.4. Cross-Shareholdings]

(1) Basic Policy on Cross-Shareholdings

With regard to Cross-Shareholdings, when it is judged that it will contribute to our sustainable growth and the enhancement of corporate value over the medium-to long-term, the Company's policy is to closely examine whether business benefits and risks are commensurate with our cost of capital, verify the appropriateness of possession, and hold them to a minimum.

In accordance with the above policy, each year, the Board of Directors examines the medium-to long-term economic rationality and future outlook based on our cost of capital for major Cross-Shareholdings, and decides on policies such as holding or selling shareholdings after discussing the significance and rationality of shareholdings.

(2) Basic Policy on the Exercise of Voting Rights

When exercising voting rights for Cross-Shareholdings, the Company makes judgments from the viewpoint of whether such shareholdings will contribute to the enhancement of corporate value and the improvement of shareholder interests of the relevant company after thoroughly considering management policies, strategies, and the content of proposals.

[Principle 1.7. Transactions between Related Parties]

In accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, any conflict-of-interest transactions with related parties (such as our individual officers or other corporations whose representatives are our officers) shall be approved by the Board of Directors and reported to the Board of Directors. In addition, the terms and conditions of such transactions are the same as those of business partners who do not have any other interests, and appropriate transactions are conducted.

[Principle 2.4.① Ensuring Diversity in the Promotion of Core Human Resources]

The Company believes that each and every employee bears a great deal of responsibility to pursue the unknown and unexplored and to create new industries that utilize optical technology to improve corporate value. In other words, since the foundation of our management is "employees," the Company has promoted efforts to respect our employees, support their ability development, and provide a comfortable and safe working environment. As a result, for the seven consecutive year since 2018, the Company has been certified as a "Excellent Health and Productivity Management Corporation (Large Enterprise Division) « White 500 »". These human resource strategies are disclosed on the Company's website.

<https://www.hamamatsu.com/jp/en/our-company/sustainability-and-csr1/social.html>

The Company has worked to clarify the human resources the Company needs, regardless of gender, nationality, new graduates, or mid-career, with regard to recruitment, which is the entry point. At present, however, the percentage of females in science-related college students is low, so the Company will take measures to increase the number of females interested in science-related college students from a long-term perspective. In addition, management and other core personnel are appointed based on the abilities (insight, competence, and bargaining power) of the employees regardless of gender, nationality, new graduates, or mid-career.

(1) Recruiting women and promoting them to positions

Our action plan through March 2026 is to ① increase the percentage of women in recruitment (career-track and general positions, including mid-career) to at least 20%, and ② increase the number of women in positions by 10% from March 2024. The most recent results were ① 16.0% and ② 138 employees. The Company will continue to improve the comfortable working environment, and the Company will actively recruit women by increasing the number of students who are interested in science, and the Company will accumulate experience and foster awareness of core human resources.

(2) Appointment of foreign nationals to managerial positions

The Company is promoting recruitment activities regardless of nationality, and the Company has 10 foreign nationals. One of these employees is also active managers. The Company does not decide whether or not to promote employees to managerial positions depending on nationality, and our judgment is based on the abilities of those persons. However, due in part to the global deployment of our business, the Company anticipates that the Company will continue to hire more foreigners as appropriate, and accordingly, the Company believes that the number of employees promoted to managerial positions will increase.

(3) Appointment of mid-career recruits to managerial positions

The Company does not distinguish between new graduates and mid-career recruits. As a result, the Company does not have measurable goals for promotion to managerial positions by new graduates/mid-career. Meanwhile, mid-career recruits are important as an immediate force. In most years, mid-career recruits account for one-third of new recruits, and the status of this is disclosed in the ESG data on our website.

[Principle 2.6. Functioning as an asset owner of corporate pensions]

The Pension Asset Management Committee, which includes individuals with accounting knowledge, meets periodically (extraordinary meetings as necessary) to confirm the status of investment. Information collaboration is conducted between related parties inside and outside the Company to improve operational expertise. The Company outsources the monitoring of investment results of pension plan assets to an external consultant.

The Company has also introduced a defined contribution corporate pension plan, shares information with operational management institutions regularly, and plans and implements education for employees.

[Principle 3.1. Enhancement of information disclosure]

(1) Photonics has become a basic technology that supports various industries, and the Company recognizes that its market will continue to expand on a global scale. In order to respond flexibly and swiftly to the expansion of the photonics industry and changes in the business environment, the Company aims to build a sustainable and stable high-profit structure by aggressively investing in R&D and capital investment for growth under a medium- to long-term vision. The Company intends to maintain a high level of cash on hand so that the Company can flexibly invest in the medium-to long-term in an ever-changing business environment.

In addition, the Company believes that people, technology, and knowledge are the foundation of our management, and the Company bases our efforts on a cumulative approach based on the front-line method. Regarding medium-to long-term plans, the Company formulates a three-year plan and annual plans in line with it through a rolling planning approach, based on the perspectives of each Division with abundant knowledge of market and technology, and proceeds with measures such as market cultivation and product development to achieve such plans (especially for profits).

(2) The Company will continue to maintain a good corporate culture that contributes to the enhancement of our corporate value while realizing effective corporate governance, ensuring transparency and soundness in corporate decision-making, achieving sustainable growth and enhancing corporate value over the medium-to long-term through prompt and appropriate decision-making.

(3) People, technology, and knowledge are the foundation of our management, and our medium-to long-term development and research efforts are based on a front-line approach. For this reason, the Company also requires Directors to achieve results from a medium-to long-term perspective.

Therefore, while the Company positions fixed remuneration as the base remuneration for Directors, it has introduced stock-based remuneration (restricted stock-based remuneration) for Directors (excluding Outside Directors). In December 2023, while maintaining this policy in principle, the Company has introduced short-term performance-linked remuneration for Directors (excluding Outside Directors) to link remuneration with the Company's performance. This is intended to further clarify the shared recognition with shareholders that the Company aims to achieve stable performance each fiscal year. In conjunction with the establishment of the Nomination and Compensation Committee in July 2021, the Company respects the report of the Nomination and Compensation Committee in regard to Director compensation, and the specific amount of such compensation is determined by the Board of Directors.

(4) The Board of Directors nominates candidates for management positions and Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members (based on the report of the Nomination and Compensation Committee for Director candidates) that are appropriate for the Company based on a comprehensive consideration of performance, achievements, insight and personality. The Company determines candidates for Audit & Supervisory Board Members with the consent of the Audit & Supervisory Board, comprehensively taking into account their background, achievements, insight, and other factors.

Since our founding the Company has prioritized employees, and the Company is striving to create a comfortable working environment. In addition, the Company places importance on intellectual property, which can be a source of competitiveness, and actively apply for patents, etc. These matters are disclosed on our website or in an integrated report.

On the other hand, the Company believes that climate-change issues are risky and has the potential to lead to profit opportunities. The Company endorsed TCFD in August 2020. In the event that the Company is unable to respond individually, the Company will engage in dialogue in proper ways as appropriate, taking into account cost-effectiveness, such as guidance for small meetings.

(5) The Company conducts IR activities after paying close attention to insider information. From the day after each quarterly settlement of accounts to the date of announcement of financial results, the period is the "silent period."

【Measures to realize management that is conscious of capital costs and stock prices】

We believe that achieving sustainable growth will lead to higher corporate value (=higher stock price). Therefore, from the standpoint of profitability, we place importance on the ratio of operating income to net sales and aim to achieve a consolidated operating income margin of 20% or above. From the viewpoint of capital efficiency, we have managed our business with an awareness of the cost of capital, and we manage to remain ROE that exceeds the cost of shareholders' equity (currently in the high 7% range - our estimate) and the creation of a "positive equity spread (ROE minus cost of shareholders' equity)". Due to the demand caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, Operating margin was 27.3% (FY22) and 25.6% (FY23), and ROE was 16.0% (FY22) and 14.3% (FY23). However, the repercussions are showing in FY2024, with stock prices and various other indices declining.

Based on the above, we will practice management that is conscious of the share price and cost of capital by strengthening communication of our future growth story, optimal capital allocation based on analysis of PBR, PER, cost of capital, and other factors, and appropriate shareholder returns. For details, please refer to our website.

Policy on determining remuneration amounts and calculation methods	Established

Disclosure of policy on determining remuneration amounts and calculation methods

The Company has established a policy on determining the amount of remuneration and the method of calculating such remuneration for Directors/ Audit & Supervisory Board Members. Within the remuneration limit decided at the General Meeting of Shareholders, the remuneration for Directors is determined by a resolution of the Board of Directors including Outside Directors after consultation by the Nomination and Remuneration Committee, and the remuneration for Audit & Supervisory Board Members is determined through a consultation at the Audit & Supervisory Board.

Our remuneration policy is as follows:

On the basis of the conviction that light has unlimited possibilities, the Company strives to pursue the unknown and unexplored. Based on new technologies and knowledge the Company creates new markets that contribute to a better society and a healthier planet.

Since these philosophies cannot be achieved in the short term, the Company requires its Directors to achieve results from a medium-to long-term perspective, not from a short-term perspective. Therefore, the Company considers that fixed remuneration is suitable as the base remuneration for Directors. In addition, the Company has introduced short-term performance-linked remuneration in consideration of the need to achieve stable performance improvement in each fiscal year in order to respond to shareholders' entrustment.

On the other hand, the Company has introduced stock-based remuneration (restricted stock remuneration) with the aim of contributing to the sustainable enhancement of corporate value from a long-term perspective, standing on the same standpoint as our shareholders.

As a result, the remuneration for Directors (excluding Outside Directors) consists of (1) fixed remuneration, (2) short-term performance-linked remuneration, and (3) stock-based remuneration. Since the Company places importance on a medium-to long-term perspective, the Company has structured the ratio of these remunerations to be generally 70:15:15 (see note below). In addition, the remuneration for Outside Directors is fixed remuneration only.

(Note) Short-term performance-linked remuneration may increase or decrease depending on the business performance of each fiscal year. Therefore, the actual ratio may change. In addition, above ratio may not be applied to Officers who concurrently serve as employees due to the relationship with their salaries as employees.

A summary of the remuneration system for Directors is as follows:

1. Involvement of the Nomination and Compensation Committee

Remuneration for Directors is determined on an individual basis by the Board of Directors. Decisions by the Board of Directors are made after consultation with the Nomination and Compensation Committee, the majority of whose members are Outside Directors. The Nominating and Compensation Committee regulations stipulate that the Company respect the reports of the Nominating and Compensation Committee.

2. Summary of each remuneration

Remuneration for Directors consists of (1) fixed remuneration, (2) short-term performance-linked remuneration, and (3) stock-based remuneration. The ratio of these remunerations shall be 70:15:15. Short-term performance-linked remuneration changes in accordance with business performance.

A summary of each remuneration is as follows:

(1) Fixed Remuneration

The amount of monthly fixed remuneration is determined for each position, taking into consideration other companies' standards through surveys conducted by external organizations. Remuneration for Outside Directors is fixed remuneration only.

(2) Short-term performance-linked remuneration

Short-term performance-linked remuneration is determined individually by the Board of Directors based on the performance of each fiscal year. The specific method of determining it is as follows:

- ① The index of short-term performance-linked remuneration is consolidated operating income. First, the Company compares consolidated operating income for the previous and current fiscal years and determines a coefficient (which varies depending on the position) based on the increase or decrease of it. Then, the Company calculates the amount of remuneration by multiplying the coefficient by the base amount for each position, and pays it to the directors in December of each year.
- ② The coefficient based on the comparison of consolidated operating income shall be "1" if it is between -5% and +5% compared to the previous year. Then, short-term performance-linked remuneration is paid based on this coefficient. In this case, the ratio of Directors' remuneration shall be approximately 70:15:15 (standard ratio). And, in order to provide an incentive for Directors to further improve performance, the coefficient shall be varied within a range of $\pm 30\%$ of the previous year's ratio of consolidated operating income. On the contrary, short-term performance-linked remuneration shall not be paid if consolidated operating income is less than -30% of the previous year's rate.

(3) Stock-based remuneration

Stock-based remuneration set at around 15% of total Director remuneration is decided for each Director at the Board of Directors and paid prior with a 30-year transfer restriction period from the record date.
