The corporate governance of Citizen Watch Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) is described below.

I. Basic Views on Corporate Governance, Capital Structure, Corporate Profile and Other Basic Information

1. Basic Views

The Company’s corporate philosophy is “Loved by citizens, working for citizens,” and it derives its name from this. The Company works to contribute to society and increase its corporate value through sustainable corporate activities, in harmony with the local community and the global environment. To continue to promote its aims, the Company believes that it is important to secure transparency in management and monitor many fields of management. Accordingly, the Company is striving to expand and improve its corporate governance.

【Reasons for Not Implementing the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code

The Company complies with all principles set forth in the Corporate Governance Code as amended in June 2021.

【Disclosure Based on the Principles of the Corporate Governance Code】 Updated

【Principle 1-4 Cross-shareholdings】

The Company will have cross-shareholdings if it judges, after comprehensive consideration, that they will contribute to maintaining and strengthening the business relations of the Citizen Group in the medium to long term as well as the smooth management of the business operations of the Company and the development of the business. The basic policy for the verification of individual cross-shareholdings is that their rationality and necessity will be examined at a meeting of the Board of Directors each year in light of relationships between business partners and the Group and the possibility of mutually enhancing the corporate value and that the scale of shareholdings will be reduced if the significance of continuing to hold the shares has diluted. With respect to the standards for the exercise of the voting rights, the Company will make a judgement on the exercise of the voting rights according to the standard of the contribution to the business of the Group in the medium to long term.

【Principle 1-7 Related Party Transactions】

The Company stipulates in the rules for the Board of Directors that transactions between the Directors and the Company and transactions involving conflicts of interest shall be subject to a resolution of the approval of the Board of Directors. In addition, the Audit & Supervisory Board Members shall monitor and verify any instances of violation, such as competing transactions or transactions involving conflicts of interest according to the standards for audit by Audit & Supervisory Board Members.

【Supplementary Principle 2-4-1 Initiatives for Diversity】

The Company aims to increase the ratio of female managers, which was at the 9% level as of the end of FY2023, to at least 20% by 2030. The Company will raise awareness to further encourage the active participation of women and build an environment including programs which help them balance work and family life.

The Company also recruits employees regardless of their nationality. At its overseas facilities, sales of which constitute around 70% of the total, the Company has been advancing business operation by locally recruiting non-Japanese employees from an early stage. Taking advantage of its networks, the Company advances management that is appropriate for the characteristics of each region. It will therefore continue to recruit employees with no regard to nationality while optimizing the distribution of roles to its domestic and overseas bases.

At present, people who joined the Company as mid-career employees constitute about 30% of its managers. They also include those who joined the Company as general managers. The Group will continue to accelerate business expansion by recruiting mid-career employees who can immediately work in a competent manner and aims to maintain the ratio of those who joined the Company as mid-career employees among managers.

As part of its human resource development policies for securing diversity, the Company assigns jobs and provides opportunities to its employees regardless of their gender, nationality, and whether they joined the Company as new graduates or experienced personnel. It promotes those who developed their careers as expatriates and directly experienced diversity in their late 20s, to senior general managers at head office or managers responsible for overseas facilities, with a view toward securing diversity across the organization.

The Company currently offers a range of programs, such as shorter work days, flexible working hours, teleworking and remote work with no need for in-office attendance, to facilitate the adoption of diverse workstyles. The percentage of female employees who return to work after childcare leave is 100% (excluding those who have left the company due to their spouses being transferred). In addition, the Company holds seminars to facilitate the understanding of the significance and needs of male employees engaging in childcare while simultaneously sharing the experiences of people who have taken childcare leave on its internal website. By doing so, it is actively recommending that male employees take this leave. The Company has introduced a job return system for those who leave the Company due to the relocation of spouses, childcare, or nursing care.

【Principle 2-6 Exhibition of Function as Asset Owner of Corporate Pension】

The Citizen Group has introduced a defined contribution (DC) pension plan with a highly professional trust bank as the DC administrator. The Group provides employees with regular education on investments through asset management training, information provided through the Intranet and others.

【Principle 3-1 Full Disclosure】

(1) The Company's corporate philosophy is "Loved by citizens, working for citizens," and it derives its name from this. The Company seeks to contribute broadly to the lives of people around the world through the "manufacture of products that are loved and trusted by citizens." The Group has formulated the Citizen Group's Medium-Term Management Plan 2021 with the fiscal year ending March 31, 2022 as the final year and established the Group's medium-term management vision "Innovation for the next: Sense the time and create an impression for the future" in February 2019, with which it will work to take on the challenge of creating new and unique value, not merely continuing manufacturing as in the past, and moving toward a sustainable future while being sensitive to changes over time in each of its businesses.

(2) The Company works to contribute to society and increase its corporate value through sustainable corporate activities in harmony with the local community and the global environment according to its corporate philosophy. To continue to promote its aims, the Company believes that it is important to secure transparency in management and monitor many fields of management. Accordingly, the Company is striving to expand and improve its corporate governance.

(3) The Company's policy regarding the amount of remuneration, etc. for officers is to apply criteria to ensure the recruitment of human resources who are eager to improve business performance and who have outstanding abilities, and to consider changes in the business environment, external data, the general remuneration level and the business situations in determining it. The policy for determining the amount of the bonus for officers is to consider the items of financial assessment (sales, operating income, etc.) and the items of non-financial assessment (improvement of strength and systems, preparations for the future, etc.) in addition to the application of the policy above. The performance-linked stock and share-based compensation aims to raise Directors' awareness of contributing to an improvement in the business performance and the enhancement of the corporate value of the Company over the medium to long term by clarifying the linkage between remuneration for Directors and the share value of the Company, and the Company has established a policy of determining the performance-linked stock and share-based compensation at a level that will enable this purpose to be achieved. In addition, the Remuneration Committee deliberates matters regarding the policy and criteria for remuneration, etc. for Directors and makes recommendations to the Board of Directors. The Remuneration Committee consists of three (3) or more Directors (the majority of the committee members are Outside Directors, including one (1) or more Representative Directors) appointed by resolution of the Board of Directors, and its chairman is appointed by mutual election from among the Outside Directors. The Board of Directors determines and approves the amount of remuneration for Directors based on the recommendations of the Remuneration Committee.

(4) The Company's policy for the appointment of officers is to ensure that the following requirements are met: (i) that they meet the requirements for officers stipulated in the Companies Act and other laws and regulations; (ii) that they have the character and insights required of an officer and the ability to carry out their duties; and (iii) other criteria established by resolution of the Board of Directors. Candidates for officers proposed to the General Meeting of Shareholders for the purpose of the appointment of officers are decided by resolution of the Board of Directors. With respect to the removal of officers, if an officer is recognized as deviating markedly from the appointment standards, the Nomination Committee deliberates on the removal of the officer at the request of the Board of Directors, the President and CEO or other Directors and reports it to the Board of Directors. The Nomination Committee consists of three (3) or more Directors who were appointed by resolution of the Board of Director (the majority of the committee members are Outside Directors, including one (1) or more Representative Directors), and its chairman is appointed by mutual election from among the Outside Directors. The Board of Directors deliberates on the proposals submitted by the Nomination Committees and determines whether to remove the officer.

(5) For the election and appointment of the individual top management, refer to the reference documents for shareholders meeting or the securities report.

【Supplementary Principle 3-1-3 Initiatives on Sustainability】

The Citizen Group has set sustainable management as the Group vision based on its Corporate Philosophy of "Loved by citizens, working for citizens." The Sustainability Committee, which is chaired by the Company's President and CEO, is in charge of promoting sustainable management.

The Company has also evaluated the level of impact of its business activities on social issues and identified five material issues, for which priorities were set. It also discloses a roadmap for the period through 2030 toward solution of social issues.

At the CITIZEN Group, we operate our businesses under the concept of the Sustainable Factory, under which we consider the processes for manufacturing products and providing services. Sustainable Factory are sustainable production facilities, business facilities, and business processes reflecting comprehensive consideration for matters such as compliance, human rights, labor practices, BCP, and productivity improvement, in addition to environmental considerations throughout the supply chain. We aim to realize the Sustainable Factory concept across the CITIZEN Group by 2030.

In FY2023, by incorporating external experts' opinions concerning material issues in each business field, the Group established certification criteria for Sustainable Products which are products and services that contribute to solving key social issues and to business growth. In FY2025, it will disclose the ratio of Sustainable Products to net sales. Sustainable Products also ensure the management of progress in handling material issues in addition to the visualization of the values of contributing to the environment and society through business.

See the website page below for the Company's initiatives on sustainability.

<https://www.citizen.co.jp/global/sustainability/management/policy.html>

At the CITIZEN Group, we consider employees to be human capital and, as set out in the Group's human resource vision, strive to create a workplace in which each employee contributes to the realization of the long-term vision and takes pride in working with CITIZEN. With this in mind, based on management strategies, we seek to develop the human resource required for the management and transformation of the Group and each company and achieve growth from both the personal and corporate perspectives. In addition to this development at each company, we started to strengthen Group-wide collaboration in human resource development in FY2022 and launched training sessions to facilitate Group-wide transformation and acquire management basics by positioning human resources responsible for the promotion of DX and the cultivation of new business areas as "human resources dedicated to the promotion of transformation." We have also been focusing our efforts on the development of next-generation leaders who will be responsible for the Group's future while also implementing the rotation of human resources between Group companies in a boundaryless fashion. The Company's basic policy for human development is to ensure that the growth of employees contributes to corporate growth by providing them with company-based training while as a rule encouraging them to develop their own careers autonomously. Under this policy, it holds career design seminars, while also recommending autonomous career development by introducing an external career consulting service and establishing a system in which employees can undertake a second job in-house, allocating approximately 20% of their working hours to engaging in assignments from other internal departments, as well as a second job outside the company. The Company started to conduct a regular engagement-related survey in FY2022. As a result, it has decided to introduce an in-house recruitment system to facilitate the enhancement of growth opportunities, which surfaced as a priority issue, and include listening skills in the reskilling training for managers with a view toward the improvement of relationships with superiors. The Group has also introduced a management-by-objectives system under which performance evaluations are implemented twice a year based on objectives set with managers at the beginning of a fiscal year and performance review and career path interviews are conducted with managers at least three times a year to facilitate career development, with the aim of achieving the growth of both employees and the Company.

Regarding intellectual property, the Company undertakes intellectual property activities in order to improve the competitiveness of its business and contribute to its sustained growth. Specifically, it not only secures appropriate intellectual property but also engages in activities to use them for improving brand value and product value. Ultimately, the Company will strengthen strategic use of intellectual property information for the purpose of planning and implementing management (business) strategies in a more effective manner and improving corporate value.

Further, to help solve the climate change problem, a global issue, the Company has established the CITIZEN Group Environmental Vision 2050 and CITIZEN Group Environmental Goals 2030 based on the CITIZEN Group Environmental Policy, aiming to achieve virtually zero CO₂ emissions from its factories and offices.

See the following website page for the Citizen Group's environmental vision and environmental goals.

<https://www.citizen.co.jp/global/sustainability/environment/vision.html>

As measures to mitigate climate change, which is one of the most serious global environmental risks, the CITIZEN Group as a whole is working on energy saving activities and the introduction of electricity derived from renewable energy at factories and offices to reduce its GHG emissions.

To express our commitment to mitigating climate change, in 2020, we announced our support for the recommendations of the Task Force on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) and identified and evaluated climate change-related risks and opportunities as requested in the TCFD recommendations, using two scenarios that differ in terms of the assumed temperature rise in the future (2-degree and 4-degree scenarios).

In addition, we revised our CO₂ emissions reduction targets (Scope 1, 2 and 3) in the CITIZEN Group Environmental Goals 2030 in 2022 and received certification from the Science Based Targets (SBT) Initiative in January 2023. The revised CO₂ emissions reduction targets are as follows.

- Scope 1 and 2: 50.4% reduction (from the level in FY2018)
- Scope 3: 30% reduction (from the level in FY2018) with respect to Category 1 and Category 11.

In 2023, the Company identified climate change risks and opportunities and implemented analysis of their financial impact using the 1.5-degree and 4-degree scenarios, enhancing the quality and quantity of disclosure. The CITIZEN Group has been moving forward with initiatives to reduce GHG emissions, including energy saving and the conversion of lighting to LED in its manufacturing processes and the installation of photovoltaic facilities. We will continue to aim for the realization of a sustainable society through the active introduction of renewable energy and the reduction of GHG emissions across our entire supply chain in cooperation with customers and business partners

Adaptation measures in the event of large-scale disasters caused by climate change are defined in the Disaster BCP (Business Continuity Plan).

See the following website page for the Company's response to climate change risks and opportunities (TCFD and scenario analyses).

V Other

1. Adoption of Anti-Takeover Measures

Adoption of Anti-Takeover Measures	Not Adopted

(Supplementary Explanation)

As its name indicates, the Citizen Group's mission is to provide citizens around the world with better products and services, and the Group has been working to secure and enhance its corporate value and the common interests of shareholders by being appreciated by citizens and working for the lives of people worldwide through manufacturing under its corporate philosophy "Loved by citizens, working for citizens." The Company believes that the individuals who control the decisions on its financial and business policies must be able to steadily put into practice the Group's business strategies from a medium- to long-term perspective based on the understanding of the Group's corporate philosophy and business characteristics, and that they must make it possible for the Company to continue to secure and enhance its corporate value and the common interests of shareholders sustainably.

The Company believes that even if a large-scale purchase act is conducted against the Company, it should ultimately be left to the shareholders to decide whether or not the Company should accept it. The Company will not unconditionally deny a large-scale purchase act if it will contribute to the corporate value and the common interests of shareholders of the Company.

However, assuming that the legal system and the financial environment as of today's date exist, a large-scale purchase act that will not contribute to the corporate value and the common interests of shareholders of the Company is also expected. A large-scale purchase act includes an act that will not sincerely aim for rational management given its purpose and method and will cause unrecoverable damage to the Company, an act that could virtually force the shareholders to sell their shares, an act that will not provide sufficient time and information for the shareholders and the board of directors of the target company to examine the conditions for the purchase or for the board of directors of the target company to present an alternative plan, and an act that will require negotiations with the purchaser for the target company to achieve more advantageous conditions than those presented by the purchaser.

The Company believes that those who conduct a large-scale purchase act such as that described above are not appropriate to control decisions on the Company's financial and business policies. Accordingly, the Company will take appropriate measures based on the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act, the Companies Act and other related laws and regulations to secure its corporate value and the common interests of shareholders, including making efforts to secure time and information for the shareholders to examine the large-scale purchase act by asking the person who is attempting to conduct the large-scale purchase act to provide necessary and sufficient information to enable the shareholders to make an appropriate judgment and disclosing the opinions of the Board of Directors to that person.
