1.3 Basic Strategy for Capital Policy

It is our management policy to become a “highly growing, highly profitable company,” and we consider that it is important to work to increase shareholder returns through expansion of our business. At the same time, in order to ensure business continuation in any business environment, we believe that it is to the benefit of shareholders from a long-term perspective that we maintain a high equity ratio and a strong financial basis.

Based on the above beliefs, we are making aggressive investments directed toward growth, including enhancement of production capacity, investment in research and development, conduct of mergers and acquisitions, etc. We are also actively utilizing capital and improving our capital efficiency in order to realize sustainable business development by conducting a structural reorganization aimed at improving profitability.

In addition, we continue to consider various types of returns to shareholders, such as increases in dividends, and conduct of repurchase of own shares when appropriate.

1.4 Cross-Shareholdings

Policy regarding cross-holding, including unilateral holding, of shares (seisaku hoyuu kabushiki):

We engage in cross-holding or unilateral holding of shares with the objective of improving our corporate value in the medium to long-term, focusing on corporate growth through maintenance of business relationships, realization of profits through shareholdings, and the social significance of the issuing companies.

If the Company judges, as a result of annual examination of its shareholdings, that a particular shareholding does not provide value to the Company, the Company will reduce such shareholding. Also, in order to clarify the immediate policy to further reduce such shareholdings, in April 2023 the Company resolved at a meeting of its Board of Directors to adopt a target of reducing its shareholdings by at least 5% on a book value basis by the fiscal year ending March 31, 2026.

The Company founded Daini Denden Inc. (current KDDI Corporation) based on its management philosophy, “contributing to the advancement of society and humankind,” and since then the Company has been holding its shares. As the value of the shares of KDDI Corporation increased in reflection of its business development, the value of such shares within the Company’s net assets has also increased.

The Company plans to maintain its shareholding in KDDI Corporation to further its strategic alliance with KDDI Corporation with the aim of increasing the Company’s corporate value over the medium to long terms, and also to use such shares for procurement of investment funds necessary for the Company’s sustainable growth.

Review of cross-holdings and unilateral holdings of shares:

To achieve the target of reducing its shareholdings, the Company will conduct an annual review of all individual shareholdings to decide whether or not the Company’s holding of the relevant shares is appropriate, taking into account the need to maintain the business relationship and/or efficiency in use of assets (taking into considering its cost of capital), etc. For any shares as to which a justifiable reason for holding them cannot be identified, the Company will decrease its holdings of such shares through discussions with the issuing company of such shares.

Exercise of voting rights:

The Company exercises its voting rights represented by its holdings based on a comprehensive judgment, verifying whether each proposal continues to conform to the Company’s shareholding policy and whether the issuing company’s management policy and strategy remain consistent with the Company’s business philosophy. The Company also examines whether each proposal submitted will contribute to a medium- to long-term increase in corporate value and the common interests of shareholders, or whether it will cause a decrease in management efficiency or damage to the Company’s financial health.

1.7 Related Party Transactions

We have a system as mentioned below in order to ensure that when we engage in transactions with our Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members or major shareholders (i.e., related party transactions), such transactions do not harm the interests of the Company or the common interests of our shareholders:

- a) All competitive transactions or transactions involving conflict of interest are made subject to resolution of the Board of Directors, requiring such transaction to be approved by the Board of Directors in advance and to make its performance report to the Board of Directors.
- b) Regarding the transactions with a Director and an Audit & Supervisory Board Member or any of their close relatives (those within the second degree), confirmation is regularly secured from all Directors and Audit & Supervisory Board Members every year using a questionnaire prepared to investigate into whether any such transactions are conducted.
- c) Regarding the related party transactions, disclosure is made pursuant to the applicable laws and regulations, including the Companies Act and the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act.

2.4.1 Ensuring Diversity in the Promotion to Core Human Resources

For the Company to become energetic and attractive and continue to grow and take on challenges into the future, it is important to respect the individuality and values of each employee and allow diverse human resources to work with job satisfaction. Based on this idea, the Company plans to actively develop human resources and improve its internal environment. As of April 2024, the ratio of non-Japanese employees in the position of Executive Officer or higher was approximately 5%. The Company plans to continue recruiting skilled non-Japanese human resources who will contribute to the globalization of the Company's business.

As such, the Company believes that it is recruiting and promoting diverse human resources. The Company plans to step up the active promotion of mid-career employees.

2.6 Roles of Corporate Pension Funds as Asset Owners

We have adopted a contract-type defined-benefit company pension plan. In connection with the management of our pension arrangements, we have put in place systems to ensure stable asset building and an appropriate company pension scheme, by establishing a department specializing in pension management and assigning specialists to work there. We also retain an external consulting firm. A periodic report on the pension plan's investment status is made by the relevant specialized department to the Pension Investment Management Committee and Kyocera Group Management Committee for review. We also entrust invested assets to multiple domestic and international investment institutions and leave portfolio selection and exercise of voting rights to the discretion of such investment institutions, so that no conflicts of interest will arise between beneficiaries of the company pension plan and the Company.

The Company believes that the establishment of a corporate philosophy which will constitute the ethical basis for executive management as well as ordinary employees is indispensable for the Company to continue to act in a socially sound and honest manner within the industry, including the making of timely and appropriate disclosure of corporate information.

The Company's corporate philosophy, which constitutes ethical standards, has been passed along from its founder's manner of thinking towards both management and lifestyle known as the "Kyocera Philosophy."

The "Kyocera Philosophy" bases its fundamental judgments on precepts such as "what is the right thing to do as a human being" and includes wide, universal contents from basic management principles to the manner of pursuing daily work. The Company's fundamental attitude, which can also be the basis of the timely disclosure of corporate information, is displayed in numerous ways including, among others, the sayings "Pursue Fairly," "Make Unselfish Decision," "Insist on Playing Fair" and so forth.

In order to implement the ethical standards embodied in the "Kyocera Philosophy" throughout the entire Group, the Company, in addition to providing study programs upon entering the Company as well as constant daily guidance in the workplace, periodically implements educational and study programs for all personnel from executive management to ordinary employees. Similar training programs have been developed for Group companies located inside and outside Japan. Through such programs, the "Kyocera Philosophy" achieves wide permeation as a corporate creed throughout the entire Group.

Further, in consideration of the applicability of the "Kyocera Philosophy" to various aspects of business activities, the Company establishes the "Kyocera Code of Conduct" and requires that all Group employees conduct their daily business duties in accordance therewith. Such policies provide detailed explanations of various laws, regulations and rules, as well as internal Company rules, include provisions such as "Compliance with the Law" and "Handling Information" etc., and otherwise collectively indicate mandatory conduct for employees.

In addition, the Company's founder, emphasizing the importance of the role of "accounting" in corporate management, created the "Kyocera Accounting Principles" based on the "Kyocera Philosophy." The "Principle of Double-Check", the "Principle of Transparent Management" and so forth, which apply to all accounting practices, are included therein and constitute guidance for timely disclosure of corporate information in the same manner as the "Kyocera Philosophy."

The "Kyocera Philosophy", the "Kyocera Code of Conduct" and the "Kyocera Accounting Principles" have been published in the form of Pocketbook which are distributed to employees who utilize them as ethical standards and policies governing conduct.

Members of the Kyocera Disclosure Committee investigate information submitted through the Administrative Office and undertake a review process to make determinations as to whether or not to disclose and the appropriateness of information to be disclosed by reference to independently obtained information. Each member provides notice of its investigation to the Administrative Office and if corrections are required, so indicates.

Due to the policy in connection with such investigation that judgments by the Kyocera Disclosure Committee as to whether disclosure shall be made are to be based on uniform criteria, the following “Guidelines for the Importance of Matters” have been established as such criteria.

Also, this Committee clarifies the purpose of the investigation and facts and materials which will be subject to investigation for the purpose of responding to changes in the management environment in an agile manner, and it is always endeavoring to increase the effectiveness of such investigations by convening the Committee in either of the following major ways.

Regular Scheduled Convening of the Committee

Extraordinary Convening of the Committee

A meeting of the Committee shall be convened upon the decision of the Chairman and Vice Chairman of the Committee in the event of mid-term amendments of laws, regulations and rules, or accounting standards, etc. or upon the unexpected occurrence of Important Events in order to determine whether or not to timely disclose and if so determined to investigate the contents of the disclosure.

(iii) Supplemental System for Representatives of Important Group Companies

(iv) Report of Investigation Results

After confirming that all Committee members have verified the appropriateness of the disclosure information, the Chairman of the Kyocera Disclosure Committee reports the results of such investigation to the President and Representative Director. The President and Representative Director confirm the investigation procedures by the Kyocera Disclosure Committee and issue instructions for corrective actions, if necessary, to the Chairman of the Kyocera Disclosure Committee.
