Notice regarding the release of our integrated report, “net one report 2024”

Net One Systems Co., Ltd. (the “Company”) today issued its “net one report 2024” integrated report and uploaded this report to its website.

The “net one report 2024” aims to clearly communicate the value creation and growth strategies of the Net One Group to stakeholders and explain the future the Group is targeting while focusing on growth tactics, value creation initiatives, sustainability management approaches, and proactive management policies. On October 30, we plan to release a separate “Sustainability report 2024,” which will introduce our sustainable growth initiatives and spotlight our focus on addressing key material priorities through our business activities. Meanwhile, Sustainability report 2024 will highlight examples of specific activities and cases in which we have applied employee feedback to address social challenges, including personnel development, decarbonization, and governance maintenance and enhancement.

We plan to release an English edition of net one report 2024 at the mid of November 2024.

[Regarding the Cover Design]

Using the round curves characteristic of our corporate logo, the designs of these covers express our relentless and inexhaustible exploration of new possibilities and opportunities through network technology. When the covers are placed side by side, their curves connect, indicating these two reports combine as a set to provide comprehensive integrated reporting.

■ Upcoming release schedule

October 30, 2024 (Wednesday): Sustainability report 2024
Mid-November 2024: English edition of net one report 2024
End-December 2024: English edition of Sustainability report 2024

We have designed the Integrated Report to be used in conjunction with our corporate website as part of our efforts to continue communicating effectively with shareholders, investors, and all our other stakeholders. We look forward to and appreciate your continued support in these endeavors.
