[Summary] Notice Regarding Share Repurchase, Tender Offer of Own Shares, and Cancellation of Treasury Shares

LY Corporation (the “Company”) resolved at the board of directors meeting held on May 7, 2025 (i) to conduct a share repurchase by the specific method of a tender offer for own shares as stated below (the “Tender Offer”), pursuant to the provisions of Article 156, paragraph 1 of the Companies Act of Japan (Act No. 86 of 2005, as amended; the “Companies Act”) as applied following the deemed replacement of terms under the provisions of Article 165, paragraph 3 of the Companies Act and the provisions of the articles of incorporation of the Company and (ii) to cancel a part of the treasury shares held by the Company pursuant to the provisions of Article 178 of the Companies Act.

1. Purpose of the Purchase, Etc.

The Company aims to achieve a medium- to long-term and sustainable increase in corporate value and believes that, in order to do so, it is important to actively engage in upfront investments in services, capital expenditures, and capital and business alliances in anticipation for future growth. In November 2023 the Company clarified its capital allocation policy and announced that the Company will aim to quickly restore adjusted earnings per share (“EPS”) through improvement of the numerator and denominator of EPS. Subsequently, the Company amended its capital allocation policy in May 2024. Specifically, the Company publicly announced that, in contemplating the improvement of the numerator and denominator of EPS, its policy will be to allocate approximately 448.0 billion yen to base investment, approximately 192.0 billion yen to base shareholder returns, and 515.0 billion yen respectively to buffer for additional investments and capital policy out of the 1.1550 trillion yen, which is the approximate value of the total cash inflow from fiscal year 2023 to fiscal year 2025, and that the Company will aim to reach an adjusted EPS of over 20 yen in the fiscal year ending March 2026 through organic business growth and without taking into consideration the effects of share repurchases and cancellations of treasury shares. Subsequently, the Company announced an update to the estimate of its capital allocation policy in February 2025. Specifically, the Company publicly announced that its policy will be to allocate approximately 364.0 billion yen to base investment, approximately 196.0 billion yen to base shareholder returns, and 580.0 billion yen respectively to buffer for additional investments and capital policy out of the 1.1400 trillion yen, which is the approximate value of the estimated total cash inflow from fiscal year 2023 to fiscal year 2025, and that the Company will continue to examine share repurchases and M&As by using the remaining buffer quota for additional investments and capital policy as funds. As of February 2025, 204.0 billion yen of the buffer for additional investments and capital policy has been or is planned to be used, and the remaining quota is 376.0 billion yen. Furthermore, taking into account the status of the implementation of capital allocation including the conduct of the Tender Offer, on May 7, 2025, the Company announced that it adopted a new goal to work on improving capital efficiency and quickly and steadily increase a positive spread, which is the difference between adjusted ROE and cost of equity capital, and provided an update to the estimate of its capital allocation policy. Specifically, the Company publicly announced that, in contemplating the increase of adjusted ROE through the improvement of adjusted EPS, its policy will be to allocate approximately 357.5 billion yen to base investment, approximately 192.5 billion yen to base shareholder returns, and 580.0 billion yen respectively to buffer for additional investments and capital policy out of the 1.1300 trillion yen, which is the approximate value of the estimated total cash inflow from fiscal year 2023 to fiscal year 2025, and that the adjusted EPS target after taking into consideration the effects of the acquisition of own shares for the fiscal year ending March 2026 will be from 25.9 yen to 26.9 yen. 376.1 billion yen of the remaining buffer quota for additional investments and capital policy (including cash outflow of approximately 150.0 billion yen through the Tender Offer) is or is planned to be used and the remaining quota is 203.9 billion yen. The Company's policy is to continue to allocate the remaining quota to share repurchases and M&As.

In addition, as publicly announced in "Revision of the Forecast on Dividend Payment" dated February 6, 2025, the forecast on dividend payment for the fiscal year ended March 2025 was revised from the 5.56 yen per share that was publicly announced in "Results for the Fiscal Year Ended March 31, 2024 [IFRSs]" dated May 8, 2024 to 7.00 yen per share, and, as a part of providing returns to shareholders, the Company's policy is to continue to provide stable dividends. Moreover, in order to enhance shareholder returns, the Company publicly announced in February 2025 that it will aim to achieve a cumulative total payout ratio of 70% or more in the five years from fiscal year 2025 to fiscal year 2029, and subsequently, publicly announced in May 2025 that in respect of the fiscal-year end dividend for the fiscal year ended March 2025, the estimate for the total amount of dividends will be 50.0 billion yen and the estimate for dividend payment will be 7.00 yen per share and that the total amount of dividends for the fiscal-year end dividend for fiscal year ending March 2026 will also continue to be the same amount, with the planned total amount of dividends at 50.0 billion yen and the planned dividend payment at 7.00 yen per share. The fiscal-year end dividend for the fiscal year ending March 2026 is calculated based on the total amount of dividends and the number of shares (7,153,575,573 shares) obtained by subtracting the number of treasury shares as of March 31, 2025 (607,074 shares) from the number of issued shares as of the same date (7,154,182,647 shares) and, in accordance with the results of the acquisition of own shares made through the Tender Offer, the amount of the dividend per share is estimated to increase.

The Company resolved at the board of directors meeting held on May 7, 2025 pursuant to the provisions of Article 156, paragraph 1 of the Companies Act as applied following the deemed replacement of terms pursuant to the provisions of Article 165, paragraph 3 of the Companies Act and the provisions of the articles of incorporation of the Company through a resolution passed by a unanimous vote of six directors who do not have any special interests with A Holdings Corporation to conduct a share repurchase by the specific method of the Tender Offer, to set the price of purchase, etc. of the Tender Offer (the "Tender Offer Price") at 533 yen, which is the closing price of the common stock of the Company rounded down to the nearest whole number on the TSE Prime Market on May 2, 2025, which is the last business day prior to the date of public announcement of the Tender Offer, to set the number of shares to be purchased in the Tender Offer at 281,425,892 shares (ownership ratio: 3.93%), which is the number of shares equivalent to the number obtained by dividing 150.0 billion yen by the Tender Offer Price (533 yen) and rounded up to the nearest whole number, and, if the Tender Offer is completed and the Company acquires the Company's common shares in a number of shares that is more than 4,800,000 shares in accordance with the Tender Offer, to cancel the number of shares of the treasury shares obtained by subtracting 4,800,000 shares from the total number of own shares acquired by the Tender Offer with July 1, 2025 being the scheduled cancellation date. The number of shares to be canceled was determined considering future capital policies and flexibility of management strategies.

In addition, based on the aforementioned circumstances, the Company has entered into a tender agreement with A Holdings Corporation on May 7, 2025 to the effect that A Holdings Corporation will tender 175,750,470 shares of the Company's common shares owned by A Holdings Corporation (ownership ratio: 2.46%) with 533 yen as the Tender Offer Price in response to the Tender Offer.
