Timee, Inc. (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; President: Ryo Ogawa), provider of the on-demand job platform "Time," is pleased to announce that it has received a certificate under the "FY2025 Certificate of Contribution to the Revitalization of Farming, Forestry, and Fishing Villages" system implemented by the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries, in recognition of its initiatives to address regional labor shortages and create related populations through the use of spot work.

Background of Certification and Timee Initiatives

In response to the labor shortage in farming, forestry, and fishing villages, we have been working to resolve local issues through collaboration with local governments. Additionally, we have formed a team specialized in primary industries and are promoting the use of spot work in agriculture and other primary industries in cooperation with organizations such as JA. This certification is a result of the recognition of the seminars we have held in collaboration with local governments and JA, as well as our achievements in stimulating the local workforce through spot work.

Moving forward, under our mission of "Building infrastructure for expanding life's possibilities through work," we will continue to strive toward solving challenges in rural communities and regions by collaborating with local governments, JA, and other organizations.

Comment from Takanori Ishibashi, Executive Officer of Timee, Inc.

It is a great honor for us to receive the "Certificate of Initiative" from the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries. Timee's acquisition of this certificate demonstrates that the services we provide are recognized as an effective means of addressing the serious "labor shortage" facing farming, forestry, and fishing villages. We feel a renewed commitment and great joy. By using spot work as an entry point, people can become fans of the work, the people, and the land, leading to the development of related populations and permanent migration and settlement. By collaborating with local communities to serve as such an entry point, we aim to build a solid track record of success stories and expand them to other regions, thereby further contributing to the revitalization of farming, forestry, and fishing villages across Japan. We will continue to strive toward solving regional issues through "work."

Regarding the Certification System for Contributions to the Promotion of Farming, Forestry, and Fishing Villages

In farming, forestry, and fishing villages, population decline and aging are progressing, raising concerns about the instability of food supplies and the loss of the multifaceted functions these villages provide. To address the issues facing rural areas, it is necessary to revitalize them by leveraging the resources of various stakeholders, including corporations.

In response to this situation, the Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries has launched the "Certificate of Contribution to Farming, Forestry, and Fishing Villages Promotion" system, which issues certificates for initiatives that utilize the financial, technical, and human resources of corporations and other entities to solve problems in rural areas.

The selection targets initiatives by companies and other organizations that are expected to continue in the future and are carried out with the aim of solving issues in farming, forestry, and fishing villages, such as ensuring a stable food supply, the sustainable development of agriculture, forestry, fisheries, and food industries, and the maintenance of a sustainable living environment.

■About Timee

Timee is an "on-demand job platform" that provides a free way to work without restrictions on time or place by matching "time when someone wants to work" with "time when workers are needed" under the tagline "Work in your style". Workers apply for the positions they want and can start working immediately without a resume or interview, and receive compensation right after completing the job. Employers only need to specify the required skills and work hours with a minimum of one hour, and the system will automatically match the worker with a job that meets their requirements. Timee aims to realize a "work-barrier-free" society where people can reach out for "work" that suits them anytime, anywhere, and in any phase of their lives. Through the encounters and experiences gained through "work," we will expand the possibilities of workers' lives and increase the number of happy hours in the world.
