◇ Sales Summary

In March, there was one less Saturday in the calendar compared to the previous year. Due to the prevalence of warm days and stable weather conditions, sales trended favorably. High foreign visitor traffic generated strong customer flow, particularly for street-level stores. By product, performance was strong for new sneakers, thanks to reinforced promotions, and for loafers and kids' shoes, driven by back-to-school demand. Additionally, in the apparel, lightweight outerwear performed strongly.

All stores sales grew 7.1% to a year ago in this month.

Existing stores sales also showed a year on year growth of 5.5% compared to the same period in the previous year.
