NJS Engineers India received “Global Safety Award 2026”

NJS Engineers India Pvt., Ltd. (NJSEI), a group company of NJS, has received the platinum category of the “Global Safety Awards^{*1}” from the Energy and Environment Foundation (EEF)^{*2} in recognition of its commitment to high-level safety management in water supply and sewerage projects^{*3} in India.

Three representatives from NJSEI – Mr. Nizamuddin Ahmed (Associate Director), Mr. Arungiri (Senior Project Manager), and Mr. Muhammad Hanif Patel (Senior Project Engineer, EHS Department) – attended the award ceremony held in New Delhi on April 17, 2026, where they received this prestigious award from Dr. Jitendra Singh, Minister of Science and Technology.

*1 An award given to individuals, organizations, and companies that have demonstrated outstanding practices and achievements in safety, such as the dissemination of safety culture and safety technologies in industry and accident prevention.

*2 A non-profit organization based in India. Its purpose is to promote sustainable development in the energy and environmental sectors, raise awareness, promote innovative technologies and safety management, and support environmental protection and energy conservation activities.

*3 The "Alkavati Projects (Water Supply)" and the "Mailasandra Sewage Treatment Plant Project," both undertaken by NJSEI.
